Are you really THAT DUMB? Or are you just trolling for the old gainsaying arguement aboutwhether Willy lied about what or who he did with his willy?

Heres a bit of info on generally accepted definitions of Sexual realtions

Wikipedia on Answers.com: Human sexual activity

Human sexual activities or human sexual practices or human sexual behavior refers to the manner in which humans experience and express their sexuality. People engage in a variety of sexual acts from time to time, and for a wide variety of reasons. Sexual activity normally results in sexual arousal and physiological changes in the aroused person, some of which are pronounced while others are more subtle. The objective of sexual activity in humans is typically to achieve orgasm

[citation needed]. Sexual activity also includes conduct and activities which are intended to arouse the sexual interest of another, such as strategies to find or attract partners (mating and display behavior), and personal interactions between individuals, such as flirting and foreplay.

Human sexual activity has biological, physical and emotional aspects. Biologically, it refers to the reproductive mechanism as well as the basic biological drive that exists in all species and can encompass sexual intercourse and sexual contact in all its forms. Emotional aspects deal with the intense personal bonds and emotions generated between sexual partners by a sexual activity. Physical issues around sexuality range from purely medical considerations to concerns about the physiological or even psychological and sociological aspects of sexual behaviour.

In some cultures sexual activity is considered acceptable only within marriage, although premarital and extramarital sex are universal. Some sexual activities are illegal either universally or in some countries, and some are considered against the norms of a society. For example, sexual activity with a person below some age of consent and sexual assault in general are criminal offenses in many jurisdictions.

By this a blow job constitutes sexual relations Lewinsky blew the Pres.
Question is did he lie about it or not?
The answer was not worth all the money wasted on the impeachment proceedings. He lied but then who has'nt lied about their sexual relations. Let that person cast the first stone who has never lied about sex.

Excellent point.

The criminal treasonous crimes against Americans are not of recent origin, design or perpetration ... and decades is a reasonable claim to the length of time the criminal justice system has been assisting in this.

Hanging for such vile disrespect and denial of Constitutional guarantees of rights, liberties and freedoms is more than acceptable with me ... just waiting for others to join me ...

Only if the average citizen of any given country is lawful and upstanding with ethics and morals can he/she expect as much from his public servants ... the school system is an evil weapon at play in all of this ...

I was thinking more of the power to prove to the naysayers that which is already known and understood - that Obama is and always has been a natural born American. The naysayers will have their chance to oust Obama at the next election. If he gets re-elected, he'll be out at the following election because presidents of the US only get a maximum of two terms. That should make them all happy.

Yup -- that's Roselles for ya...king of the racist, hyper-violent, misogynistic usenet morons...

But if you want to see something REALLY moronic, watch the space below -- he'll soon be posting one of his patented, panicked, apoplectic, laughable denials where he insinuates that the links, containing clear time and date stamps, his own server ID codes traceable to the user's account and proprietary google archive urls, are somehow "faked"...

That's how desperate this stupid prick is to distance himself from his seriously sick fucking posting history...

It's pathetic in the extreme.

So pathetic in fact, that he was forced to opt-out of the archives -- thinking it'd be easier for him to deny subsequent threats and racial slurs.

Nor does it say that cops can't have someone sneak a bug into someone's home without a warrant. It simply says (if I understand correctly) that you need a warrant to search private homes etc. That is any search, be it by physical entry or infrared. The question is if it is a search and if so is there probably cause.

That's the sort of thing I can have lots of fun with. You do things like determining witness reliability, or the probability that the tire tracks at the scene. Most likely you will have to calculate joint probabilities.* Not that difficult to do if you have a bit of statistical knowledge.

*For example, tracks show about a size 10 shoe. There are probably Y people in the area with that shoe size. The right shoe has unusual wear on the outer side of the toe. The thief stepped in mud and probably weighed about 200 pounds. Thief was able to reach the entry window without putting any box or ladder in the soft dirt underneath which means he must be six feet or more tall. Calculate the joint probability of all those. Then combine that with things like witness reports, what a pawn shop owner might remember or have records of from the stuff being pawned and you can get some pretty good numbers.

You may wish to, as well.

Henry Ford was the first to provide day care for his workers' children, and the beginnings of a health care program.

All before the formation of the unions.

Are you residing in a steel-and-concrete structure ? If so, can the

Thus the need to advance the definition of "unreasonable searches and seizures" beyond the confines of the English common law in 1791.

You understand incorrectly. The constitution merely speaks to unreasonable searches and seizures. Searches and seizures with a probable cause warrant a presumed reasonable but they are not the only ones which are.

Two excellent questions - neither of which is addressed by the 1791
English common law.

But not in any real world situations.

That's not how "prudent and cautious" people operate in the real world.

And probable cause operates on the basis of such individuals, who are, in almost all instances, NOT statisticians.

Far from the Davidians being "trapped" in the compound they could leave any time. In fact that is why there are survivors. They are the ones just walked out, unharmed.

FRIDAY, MARCH 19:
Two Davidians, Brad BRANCH and Kevin WHITECLIFF, come out of the compound.

SATURDAY, MARCH 20:
Another Davidian, Rita RIDDLE, comes out of the compound.

SUNDAY, MARCH 21:
At 12:15 a.m., two more women, Victorine HOLLINGSWORTH and Annetta RICHARDS, exit the compound. Rita RIDDLE, Gladys
come out.

TUESDAY, MARCH 23:
At 10:05 a.m., Livingstone FAGAN leaves the compound

FRIDAY, MARCH 19:
Two Davidians, Brad BRANCH and Kevin WHITECLIFF, come
out of the compound.

SATURDAY, MARCH 20:
Another Davidian, Rita RIDDLE, comes out of the compound.

SUNDAY, MARCH 21:
At 12:15 a.m., two more women, Victorine HOLLINGSWORTH and Annetta RICHARDS, exit the compound. Rita RIDDLE, Gladys
come out.

TUESDAY, MARCH 23:
At 10:05 a.m., Livingstone FAGAN leaves the compound

Seems a steady stream of people were leaving the

1) Thanks for your concern about my knowledge of history, but yes, I am familiar with Henry Ford's "Social Department".

2) Nothing is all black or all white, but many thought that his Social Department was way too intrusive and too "Big Brotherish".

3) Just because he had his social department, that had very little to do with negating the need for unions. As stated previously, you could be fired for any reason -- or no reason. Rampant favoritism, rampant corruption. You had to bribe the foreman to keep your job. And if the the foreman's brother-in-law needed a job, even the bribe wouldn't work. Finally, don't forget Henry's head thug, Harry Bennett and his rather large squad of goons. They did a lot of what can charitably be called spying on employees, under the guise of the so-called "social department".

4) So, yes, there was indeed still a crying need for the unions, day care notwithstanding. To summarize, the unions did not just fall out of the sky. They came about because of a real N-E-E-D.

You're arguing two different points by attempting to obfuscate both of them.

No one is saying that there wasn't a need for unions. But as you correctly stated, nothing is black and white.

Ford made enormous strides in employee care without unions. He was often heavy handed about it. And at times, quite generous and compassionate.

Unionization, with it's often heavy, and violent hand, would have precluded the company from taking some of the extraordinary measures it did manage to take volunatarily, but forcing other issues, costs, and priorities in other directions. Unions tend to want things that are already in existence. At the time of Ford's implementation, neither health care for employees, nor day care, existed.

The need for unions, however, arose from work factor concerns extant at the time of Ford, in his own factories. As well as many others. Unions arose to both protect workers from abusive relationships with supervisors, and mid level manglement, which are often the most abusive, and from industry practices established over decades of industrialization.

Unions, however, like nearly every activist organization does over it's life, took things a bridge too far. Resulting in contracts that could not be sustained, offloading their own responsibilities onto the companies hiring their workers, and creating grievances out of whole cloth. (I speak from my own experience, as a dues paying, voting member of three unions.)

Today, unions are more political entities than labor collectives.
Many have abandoned their core purposes to enrich their manglement teams, and to create political might which, like the companies Gompers despised, are abusive with their power, and wielding it against their own membership.

As you point out, the image is hardly black and white. It's time we started looking at both the black and the white side to the issue of Unions.

I disagree. If it's unreasonable for a cop to enter your home without permission, it's equally unreasonable to plant a bug or use infrared without permission. However should change be required, the way to do it is with a law or amendment, not judge-made law.

(And it would be pretty easy to defeat infrared searches, a bit of metal over the walls and it doesn't get out of the house. A few rolls of aluminum foil would do it, as would metal-backed insulation in the walls and ceiling.)

But still, there is no reason to believe that modern technology changes the definition of unreasonable. The methods, yes, but not the definition.

The term "search" is pretty well understood, now as it was in 1791.
Nor has the definition of "probable" changed.

Why can't a lawyer ask, "Officer, you say you had probable cause to search my client's house. Just how probable was it that you would

A court of law is hardly reflective of most of the world.

You don't have to be a statistician to understand the basic concepts required for such calculations. In fact modern technology could help here. It would be simple to produce a computer program to calculate everything they need, you'd only have to help them understand the concepts. For most people of average intelligence, a few hours (maybe 4-8) of class time would be more than adequate.

I'm after info that will hopefully allow me to see how close the HF3 serial communication protocol is to the Lowe HF150/other receivers?

I've written a full control program for the HF150 that could possibly also be of use on the HF3 range of receivers.

We didn't miss that point. It is MUCH easier to accuse dead men of crimes, they simply can't represent themselves in court and most charges and trumped up evidence will stick to men in a coffin.

The government, when it went in, had no intention of letting koresh

Possibly you have answered your own question. Although you were not completely clear, it seems that you are saying that given the -same- signal, one piece of software is decoding properly and the other software is not. Therefore you've isolated the problem to the non-working software, so it would seem that you should focus your attention there.

Presumably you have checked the speed and the shift, but have you checked to see if you are trying to receive "upside down", that is, have a mark-space reversal?

Two tips:

1) You may want to try another piece of free software, MMRTTY, fast becoming the defacto standard for hams and with a large amount of support.

2) As a reality check, try decoding some ham RTTY. 14.080 kHz + or -, 60 baud speed and 170 Hz shift.

Good luck and let us know the outcome.

Someone with any sense at all would snipe the helicopter at multiple, remote locations ... point being, you have to wonder if these events aren't staged by the police themselves as some reason to search or arrest some political enemy ...

What fool is going to start shooting at a helicopter in a manner which guarantees his arrest? Now, I see some pretty stupid people around, but those that stupid are very rare and usually NOT allowed firearms!

I think that Koresh and his followers believed some crazy things.
But it's not illegal or punishable to believe in anything you choose -- nor should it be.

I don't believe Koresh ordered the deaths of his church members. But even if you _do_ believe that accusation, ask yourself this question:

Which is the more dangerous cult? Which cult has killed more people in its "cause"? The belief system that says that David Koresh embodied all that was good and right? Or the belief system that says modern American "democracy" embodies all that is good and right?

The most dangerous cults are those whose members consist of republicrats and democans ... the God they worship is money, power, wealth and inflicting pain and suffering on those which they perceive as their enemies ... while difficult to name such an organization who attempts to keep its' name hidden, and, as much as possible, its' criminal activities hidden ... shadow government should be a fitting name.

I use fldigi. It's free and works on Linux.

It's best to have a dedicated computer for ham radio. That way you don't broadcast Windows asterisk sounds and take down 20 QSOs all at the same time.

Preaching bullshit is no crime. Murdering people is. I know this might be shocking to people who would have us do away with free speech.

The same was being said at the very time the Waco massacres were going on ... a search on the way back engine should produce ample evidence of this.

Really? Sick psychotic murders frequently baffle even the most astute psychiatrists as to their motives ... often you find these sickos as dictators of nations ...

Random senseless murders are done for many reasons, some easy to scam up a motive for, some not ... just the sheer show of force and being able to get away with the mass murder helps the government subdue the populations girly-men and powder-puff-bull-dykes. Not to mention that unstable personalities enjoy murder for the sake of sheer murder ... if you are powerful in government, you have henchmen do it for you, as sadam and his sones, and libyas' ruler are accused of ... for recent examples. These sickos find positions in our government just as good as a platform as foreign governments.

koresh was frequently in town and away from the compound on business.
Slipping set a of cuffs on him and taking him to court would have been a LOT cheaper on tax payers. Personally, I think much more money is owed in resitution to the victims families and surviving victims. Criminals are usually loathe to own up to their debts and crimes ...

I don't think the events were any different than those which were planed for public servants working in someones, or some groups best interests.

Whatever koresh had, or had not done will always remain a mystery, our public servants crimes forever before the people.

Most false flag operations perpetrated on ignorant American citizens by the criminal treasonous public servants result in murder, death and destruction ...

These tactics are highly productive in advancing the police state, loss of freedoms, rights and liberties. The government molestations at airports, the nazi homeland security, the illegal tapping of Americans communications, etc. bear amply proof to the success of these criminal tactics and actions ...

I believe the wise now stand in horror and cringe at what will probably be the scope, death and maiming of victims as they keep up these false flag operations to intimidate the masses and expand the police state ...

But, you see, the entry itself is neither a search nor a seizure.

It's the bug which is the search or search.

The infrared camera is not an entry at all - it is merely recording the emissions coming from the dwelling in any case.

> However should change be required, the way to do

The "law" in this case is merely a prohibition against "unreasonable" searches and seizures. Judges must determine whether or not they are reasonable in specific cases - after all, you claim this all originates in "English common law" and what is common law beyond a series of judge made rulings and determinations?

Under the English common law, the constable was allowed to stand out side the dwelling and if he saw (or heard) evidence of a crime through a window, take appropriate action.

Judges must decide whether doing the same thing with the benefit of an infrared detector or a sound amplifier is more akin to the constable standing outside or more akin to an actual entry.

The judges have come down on a "reasonable expectation of privacy" standard but that is by no means implicit in 1791 common law.

The question wouldn't even be allowed.

Note in any case that probable cause relates to the issuance of warrants and not to searches themselves which must only be not "unreasonable". A search pursuant to duly issued warrant is prima facie reasonable but all searches without a warrant are not necessarily unreasonable.

I fear you rather underestimate the complexity of what you're proposing.

Each case is unique with it's own particular facts and circumstances and is unlikely to fit into any preconceived computer calculation.

Non-responsive answer duly noted. So, let's sum it up here: you're positing a Government conspiracy to murder innocent people for no discernable motive other than to further the unspecified interests of vague, unnamed rich people. The cult leader is a deranged loon who preaches an immanent apocalypse, but it's the Government, not him, who immolated him and his followers (again, for no discernable reason).

Do you wonder why most people regard Conspiracy Theorists as nuts?

The court hearing(s) and trials on all this are nothing short of criminal, a sham, a joke ... I am sorry, I find any testimony given by the victimized surviors of no value, besides having gone though the horror of watching their friends and family murdered, I can only guess at what threats and/or monetary "compensations" have been offered, by the criminals.

I am afraid we must agree to disagree on what is real, possible, probable and truth ...

The bulldozing and destruction of the crime scene, immediately after, is something which would bring normal criminals under high scrutiny.

I said what I meant, koresh and the intentions of the davidians will always be under a shroud of mystery -- our public servants illegal use of the military and their crimes are simply a matter of record.

Really?

To tell you the truth, the motives behind any crime I have ever seen in life is/are drugs, money, power, wealth and rock and roll ...

Criminals can keep coming up with a range of bizarre "motives", I find this humorous ... but sad.

I can't see that tower from doggy's front yard.Howsoever, if I drive only a short distance, I could see that thar tower.I can't see that 300 feet tall (I think it is 300 feet tall, it looks like it to me) cell tower over there on John R. Lynch Road (just behind Metrocenter Mall) from doggy's couch either, ergo the street doggy's lives on is a little bit down hill.Bit, if I walk or drive up doggy's street to whar I can see Metrocenter Mall, I could easily see that cell tower.Only guessing, bit I think that cell tower is about 600 of my footsteps South (South is Always Best) of doggy's couch.It is (according to the Odometer in my big ass long tall 1983 Dodge van) less than two tenths of a mile South of doggy's couch, also that AT&T retail store where I bought my Motorola ATRIX phone and Motorola ATRIX laptop dock and I took that Motorola ATRIX crap back to that AT&T store for a refund.In a straight line, I reckon that cell tower is barely/hardly over one tenth of a mile South of doggy's couch.I will ask doggy, she will know.

Oh, I think they may, well indeed, set of a nuke in American, but I don't think it is going to be bearded men in caves ...

I think it will be what it has always been, our criminal public servants having their strings pulled by the puppet masters, just another false flag operation.

I think they expected to get mileage out of much more fear and intimidation from the 9/11 false flag operation. I think the next one will be on a scale which vastly diminishes the mass murders of 9/11.

Too many still are telling them to stick TSA molestations, homeland security, cameras, wire tappings, etc. up their criminal bums!

We have much excitement planned for us, obviously!

Show of force by police and illegal military force, possible/probably harm to children, intimidation, etc.

How does any criminal subdue and subjugate his victims?

It is at the very base of the crimes being discussed! They must first do this before commencing with the actual display of violence and destruction.

It's been awhile, so my memory gets a little hazy. Sorry for the two errors:

1) Yes, MMTTY by Mr. Mori (his MMSSTV is also a great program)

Try http://www.aa5au.com/rtty.html for a tutorial on rtty in general and MMTTY.

2) I should have said 60 WPM (words per minute), not 60 baud. 60 wpm is 45.45 baud, commonly referred to as just 45 baud, the standard ham radio speed (and yes, at least I got the 170 Hz shift correct). <grin>

In any event, glad I was able to solve your "upside-down" problem.

Joe

No need to wonder, talk to any physicist and he'll tell you that metal blocks IR. That's how a space blanket works. In fact Columbia Sportswear recently came out with clothing with aluminum dots to reflect the IR the body generates and thus increase insulation value.

There is a difference between looking through an un-curtained window and looking through walls that people have every reason to expect are opaque.

Why? If evidence was obtained by that claim of probability, why should the defense not be allowed to ask about it?

You make it unnecessarily complicated. All you need is some basic understanding of probability and the ability to multiply, divide, add and subtract. Wouldn't even get into square roots except in extraordinary cases.

Funny thing is, we in the USA are taxed at an approx. 50% rate, if thiers is only 40%, they are lucky!

If you would bother to take account of road taxes, fuel taxes, the taxes the farmer pays, the excise taxes -- all the hidden taxes, then the fees, fines, license fees, charges, sales taxes, etc. which are buried in the cost of the items you purchase, you'd realize that 50% is just about right on, when added onto your income tax.

Simply put, government is taking half of all monies just to support itself!

Decades ago, readers digest would take a loaf of bread and then figure our all the taxes on it and what it would cost with the taxes removed ... if I remember correctly, a .25 cent loaf of bread would run you a nickel.

Maybe someone can remember with more clarity than myself, as other items were also quoted with taxes removed ...

And, it sure seems to be to have gotten worse!

They were afraid that might be found out ... they completely bulldozed the crime scene, destroying all possible evidence ... still they were gas grenades and such found in the rubble ... on a 9/11 scale, that was probably a 1 - 2, if you take into account property and lives lost/destroyed ...

If we don't get this criminal system fixed this time, just imagine the scale the next one will be, the loss of property and life ...

If a large enough number of innocent bystanders died also, and it involved the illegal/criminal use of the military against citizens ...
maybe that would have been sufficient ...

But, that was back then, next one needs to top 9/11!

Yes, the young man in the video has been paying attention to Alex Jones and Drudge. He has it 95% correct. Oil and gold ...

As the demand from gold is climbing higher than any supply which can be obtained, they are going to have to steal gold and dump it on the market at a steal ...

As the young man said, they can't hide it any longer, the theft and the games ... a certain amount of morons will never wake up ... they are simply the lemmings going off the cliff.

However, you make a great mistake, it is not the media which drives the criminals in public service, it is the puppet masters who pull the strings on the public servants who also pull the strings of the talking heads ... that is why Alex Jones and Drudge are so refreshing, the truth is just that way.

Your point? obama is as bad as bush, or is just a wannabe to top his war crimes and criminal actions?

In my opinion, at this point, bush is still up on obama with the 9/11 false flag operation ... but hey, obama is still in office, give him sometime to spring the next 9/11 "topper!" -- that is the one to watch.

The silly game of the republicrats vs. the democans, using military and the destruction of assets -- along with the morons tax payer dollars, is still in its' early stages, long time before the final quarter!

SMART MAN!

The game is not the democans and people against the republicrats, NOR the republicrats and people against the democans ...

The game is the single party composed both of democans and republicrats against the people ... using the peoples own assets against them, their military and monies!

Truly evil and diabolical in nature. When you toss in traitorous morons, who thru inability to understand, apathy in understanding, or seeking some power/monetary gain in actions, are assisting the criminals against the people, and you have a very dangerous and interesting game!

Golf is safer!

I disagree. If it's unreasonable for a cop to enter your home without permission, it's equally unreasonable to plant a bug or use infrared without permission. However should change be required, the way to do it is with a law or amendment, not judge-made law.

(And it would be pretty easy to defeat infrared searches, a bit of metal over the walls and it doesn't get out of the house. A few rolls of aluminum foil would do it, as would metal-backed insulation in the walls and ceiling.)

Why can't a lawyer ask, "Officer, you say you had probable cause to search my client's house. Just how probable was it that you would

Because a Judge makes the determination. Note that judges do not all agree on the definition of 'probable cause'.

This stuff about the birth certificate reminds me of the joke an elementary schooler, a fourth grader, who, upon a teacher's request to draw a picture of a horse, said he didn't know how to draw a horse.
The teacher smiled and said, "Well you must try."

When the teacher came by to see his drawing, he had drawn a picture of a barn. She asked, :"Where is the horse I asked you to draw." The boy smiled, "It's in the barn."

Any details of the Obama administration is "in the barn."

They'd all better have a proper definition of what the people feel it is! The goons and shaven apes which sit the bench make that more improbable each and every day!

Frankly, I don't give a chit of their being a judge, they'd just better

What then is needed is a cold, dispassionate, cool lawyer type or all

What I wondered about was whether a dwelling which emitted no IR at all would constitute probable cause in its own right. With or without records of purchases of large amounts of Reynolds Wrap.

Of course there's a difference.

Which is rather why the judges came up with the concept of "reasonable expectations of privacy" - a concept nowhere mentioned in the 4th amendment nor the 1791 common law.

The language of the 4th is not self-defining. Judges must do that.

>>>Why can't a lawyer ask, "Officer, you say you had probable cause to Because probability is not the standard, probable cause is.

Pretty much. It's "probable" that the defendant was speeding - after all, if you clocked 100 vehicles, 80 of them would be exceeding the speed limit by some amount.

But that is not an allowable inference, even though it's probably correct.

The difficulty is in assigning a numerical value to such things to even begin the statistical calculation.

A cop observes two men. One hands the other a small package. The other returns an envelope. What is the probability that the cop has just witnessed a drug sale?

Does it make a difference as to whether the cop was on the corner of Couch and 4th as opposed to the dining room of the Glendoveer Country Club? Did the cop observe furtive glances prior to the exchange? What exactly is a furtive glance? Does the time of day make a difference? What if the cop recognizes one of the men as a convicted drug user? Or as the Mayor? I'm sure you can come up with at least a half dozen other possible variables.

Plug in the appropriate values and crank up your computer.

No. Lawyers are generally crooks, the current "interpretations" of law almost demands it.

If you think there is any difference to a cop(s) doing a home invasion or a crook doing a home invasion, you are a MORON!

Fools who have no respect for themselves, their property, or their rights, have no right in asking me to have any for them, their rights or their property!

If a cop hears a gun going off in my home, or someone yelling from a sex torture chamber in my basement, it's NOT an invasion ... indeed, it means I am in trouble!

You fool ...

The Distinguished Trolls will once again be hosting the Kombat Kramer Klam-bake and Klown-fest at rec.knives over the 4th of July weekend.

We cordially invite any and all posters from NG's that our Hero Steve visited; rec.knives (your host site), soc.culture.thai, rec.radio.shortwave, alt.cooking-chat, and rec.scuba. Steve's buffoonery and blowharded-ness was felt by many a poster on these groups and we're sure you'll get your money's worth so feel free to drop on by, July 4th weekend :-)

For those that haven't been following, Steve frequented these select NG's on a regular basis and its only fitting to have attendees represented from each and every one on this Special Weekend Gala. The Trolls know Steve will be soooo thrilled. Its shaping up to be another Cracker.

Personally I hope to once again hear from the Question Guy who was going to "track me down, and Mike who was going to Skype call all of the Trolls (because its easy and Free); I'm still waiting :-)...and of course no parte` would be complete without the Govt buffoon Krypsis and his garbage taker-outer Felicity Warbrooke. Hopefully Annonymouse and "Tom" will also show up to lend their support for Steve; the only thing better would be to hear from dear old Howard, whistling from the grave...2 months, 1 week so make your plans now ~ You're ALL invited!!

and Yes rigger (from nca) you too can attend (smirk) but you have to dress up like an Ape-Jack!

In addition, it seems my sperm donor sired kids by at least two more women, abandoning the support of the first. It appears I have several surviving half brothers; we seem to have longevity.

Why should anyone giva fuck? More to the point they mite care about is my trial transcript, which on page 425, [chapter 21] to start with, employed perjury to get a conviction. Still pending appeal.

Be advised these are .png scans and each chapter, of 20 pages, takes several megs, so you'll need lotsa patience of broadband to see them.

People would be more interested in my medical marijuana test case and how the collusion of media and law enforcement keeps the drug war going to provide secure jobs and good incomes.

Ok, I've answered my own question. The HF3 receivers have no external control facility.

You ask a good question, but unfortunately, I do not have a good answer, other than this was in common usage in the earlier days of tty in the USA, both radio and landline. I could speculate that, like Morse code also being rated in wpm, they used a standard length "word".

However, I can tell you that in the USA, tty speeds were rated that way. Three speeds were in common use, 60 wpm, 75 wpm and 100 wpm. For example, an option you could purchase for the Teletype Corporation Model 28 machine was a three speed mechanical gear shift for 60-75-100 wpm, just mechanical machines and punched paper tape, virtually all made by the Teletype Corp in Skokie, Illinois (a -very- few European machines were in use, possibly Lorenz?) and Kleinschmidt in the very, very early days.

The TTY Corp line up (in chronological order) was the Model 15 KSR, Model 19 ASR, Model 28s (both KSR and ASR) and Model 32(which was Baudot. The Model 33 was ASCII). All were superseded by the first electronic machine by TTY Corp, the Model 40, also known as the "glass teletype" (because of the CRT it used).

KSR = Keyboard Send Receive
ASR = Automatic Send Receive (punched paper tape)

No sound cards, no computers, no macros, no memories back then, rather 'terminal units' (decoders) using 60 ma. loops.

Sorry for the trip down memory lane, probably more than you wanted to know. :D

P.S. If you do try and copy ham rtty, it is 45 baud, 170 Hz shift and Baudot (5-level), not ASCII (8-level).

To determine our real average rate, the best thing is to add up everything tax money is spent on, and divide it by the number of people. That doesn't count unfunded mandates which we also pay for, but it does include inflationary costs.

Trouble is, "average" doesn't mean a heck of a lot to individuals.

Sure, other games that depend upon players applying rules to themselves don't use the rules of golf.

I have played other games without referees though.

Should we start making an attempt to stop the idiotic cross posting? It seems to be the specialty of a few people to start fights between members of completely different newsgroups.

I will be removing all groups other than the radio one when I post. It's time to stop the spread of the disease. The Bozos are equal to or worse than RHF.

My original answer, moron.

obamas birth certificate is NO CONSPIRACY, it is hidden, obama will tell you why, himself:

ï¿½"The only people who don't want to disclose the truth are people with something to hide." -- barack obama (barry soetoro)

9/11 is scientific fact, thermite in the dust, free fall speeds, all three buildings falling into their own footprints, tons of molten iron in the basements.

If only one of those things were breaking the laws of physics, perhaps a claim of "conspiracy" could be provoke.

With the total overwhelming abundance of evidence and truth, 9/11 is NO CONSPIRACY -- IT IS SCIENTIFIC FACT.

Political science is not acceptable in the crime of controlled demolition!

They are heroes and patriots. And, while their sacrifices are horrible, possibly necessary, it make the criminal nature of our public servants to be placed high for all to see and their crimes made obvious. Because to them, we all were highly awake and aware when 9/11 was perpetrated on Americans.

"The tree of liberty must be refreshed from time to time with the blood of patriots and tyrants. ... God forbid we should ever be twenty years without such a rebellion; what country can preserve its liberties if their rulers are not warned from time to time that their people preserve the spirit of resistance? Let them take arms." -- Thomas Jefferson to William Stephens Smith, 1787

Some would rather die free and upholding their freedoms, rights and liberties and this makes our pussy public servants piss their pants ...

The facts and data surrounding Waco only prepared us for the future crimes.

The next false flag operation may enslave us, or set of a real revolution. It only depends if enough know what has been going on.

A single video, waco rules of engagement, pushes Waco far above a simple

Yep, the only reason there is a crime with the birth certificate is because obama hasn't produced one, DUH!

If you can't come up with proof to prove you out, hide the proof which proves you guilty ... DUH! AGAIN! I mean the crooks learn this in May I ask exactly what the Hell Obama's birth certificate and 9/11

Which is a good reason to put some standards on the process. A cop should know what is required to get a warrant before he goes to the judge. If he knows he must provide evidence that X% probability is required he will not waste time if he cannot substantiate that probability.

You are stuck in a circular argument, the evidence prove Waco a crime, a lot of the evidence has been pointed out here, bullets, CS gas, tanks/fires, filmed shooting of fleeing Waco victims, bull dozing of evidence, etc.

As I pointed out, anyone watching Waco Rules of Engagement will have this pointed out to them.

The ATF attempted to executed an illegal and false search warrant; the Davidians responded as if under attack (they were) and were subsequently murdered.

I am not a sympathizer with Koresh, his teachings, or practices, however in this case, they were the victims of a militarized government in an unjustified action.

That does not alter the fact that the ATF could have arrested him in town instead of staging a reenactment of the D-Day invasion and getting their asses handed to them.

The ending was a foregone conclusion. The government cannot allow such resistance to go unpunished. To bad it doesn't feel the same way about incompetence and malfeasance.

Waco,Texas is a nice City.U.S.Army had an Army bus going to Waco one Sunday morning in 1965 when I was at Fort Hood,Texas for ten months.It was like a school bus painted Olive Drab, Army color.Naturally, myself and about eight or ten other lean mean fighting machines got on that bus for a tour of Waco and environs.It was a boring Sunday, what else was I to do? I wasen't bored touring Waco and environs of Waco.

Earlier that year when I was at Fort Hood, I rode another Army Olive Drab bus to Fort Sam Houston,Texas, ergo a leg injury I got when I was in Vietnam in 1964.It might have been the same bus, they all looked alike, Olive Drab, baby, Olive Drab.

You can say the same about any government or dictator/tyrant oppressing his/their people with shows of murder, violence, military, etc. Each crime and false flag against the people, to promote a police state and get us used to military/homeland-security (such as TSA gropings) is "vague" in purpose ... it is simply getting people used to the loss of freedoms, rights and liberties ...

All crimes against the people, all a natural progression in the loss of freedom, rights as a police state places us in fear of bearded men in caves or the dark ...

They are crimes which ignore the rights of the people and the law of our Constitution.

I am afraid there is a MAJOR DIFFERENCE. The Panama Canal Zone was deeded/leased, indefinitely, to the USA -- a territory and possession of ours. He was born on a military base there, the child of two American citizens.

If I dug up the forefathers, reincarnated them, and asked them McCains' fitness and eligibility to run for the public servant office of president, I can't imagine a single one is disagreement.

Indeed, even without their consult, I find little in conflict with the spirit of Constitutional law!

If I asked them about obama, I'd imagine they would laugh in my face ...

I'm not sure as to your point: the second link here is to a survivor's account blaming the FBI, but the first is an article discrediting his account as unbelievable, and noting that his story has changed several times.

>http://www.carolmoore.net/waco/waco-speak-out.html

This is testimony of two survivors: Thibodeau, whose account your first article has already dismissed as unreliable, and a second who offers no insight as to how the fire started other than that he didn't hear an order to set it.

But again, what's your point, as you've already stated you hold the survivors' accounts of no value? Make up your mind.

The building is gonna emit IR but with the metal blocking that IR will be very diffuse and not show images, hence not useful for evidence.
However metal-backed insulation is available so there's no reason not to think that wasn't used in the house. As for large quantities of Reynolds Wrap, just looked at our roll which contained 200 square feet. It would only take a few of those to block off the walls toward the street, not enough to arouse suspicion at the grocery store.

And why would it be suspicious for someone to block the IR from their home? As IR imagers become more available I can see that someone would want to make sure that local peeping Tom couldn't watch them on the toilet or while making love.

How do you define probable? How do you know it is probable? What you've described is an invitation to chaos with one judge accepting most anything as probable cause while another has high standards. If we put some standards on it then at least the cop would have an idea of what he needs to demonstrate to get a warrant.

But it is, I believe, allowable as reason to gather more evidence such as put a cop with a radar gun on that highway. You can't convict on 80% probability but you can get more evidence, raise the probability to near 100% and then convict.

Statistics can easily include all those factors, even the cop's experience and how it affects his right brain recognition.

And there's no GIGO in the current system? No cops or judges with biases? However if probability is correctly applied it will eliminate GIGO. Any statistician will tell you that you have to have good data for the statistics to be meaningful. How often are drug deals known to happen at Couch and 4th? What's the recidivism rate of drug dealers? Is the guy handing the mayor an envelope going to benefit if he bribes that mayor? Probability calculation can handle all that quite easily if given the correct data. However without that correct data nobody is likely to be very accurate.

Once and for all (if that could be the case) there is only ONE original birth certificate and you can not have it, order it or ask the state to show it.
When you order your birth certificate from the Bureau of Vital Statistics in YOUR state, you will get a brief form or whatever your state calls it. You do not get an original.

Tell me how did Obama's birth announcements get in two Hawaiian newspapers at the time of his birth? Did this imagined cover-up go back that far.

Where is Donald Trump's proof? Haven't his people been in Hawaii for a couple of week's now? Is it taking that much time to find whatever it is they are finding. Wasn't there an hour TV show about a week ago that raised the birth issue and then proved it nonsense.

What proof would you accept. You don't believe the Governor of Hawaii or the director of vital statistics in Hawaii or the local newspapers. What do you want. Oh, I know, it's easier to concentrate on the birth issue than other facts about Obama's presidency.

Do you support Trump or Palin. They have raised the bar to becoming president to having your own reality show.

Combined with what I have already stated, and apparently you have missed, with the resources and open intimidation of lethal force by public servants, military, police, etc. only fools could oppose these lethal forces without escaping death ...

You want absolutes when it is the very nature of the criminals to hide their crimes ...

Waco was a simple illegal home invasion perpetrated by government ... they got their asses handed to them and had to murder the resisters in a show of force. I'd say that is pretty criminal fare done by tyrants worldwide ... you seem to feel it is OK when American public servants do crimes.

That is all which has happened, that is all that happening ...

The branch davidians were not the real target of the intimidation, we were and are. To date, because of true patriots and the strength of true Americans, it has not worked to an adequate level.

You are supposed to have been made so afraid you will not question 9/11, TSA molestations, cameras watching your every move, wire tappings of your most private conversations, planting locations on your automobiles, denial of free speech and right to assemble, etc.

Since 9/11 was a failure, you can expect bigger and better. Fear, murder, destruction, these are the only weapons which tyrants know can make a population silent on their rights, freedoms and liberties ... there will only be more, there can only be more, until one side has had enough and stands up to shake off the lice of corrupt public servants and criminals. I would just as soon as kill a terrorist who makes my life miserable, be they foreign or domestic!

Morons see no problem with any of this ...

Stop right there. You're using accounts that you've previously dismissed as being of "no value" to support your position. Sorry, you can't have it both ways. Moreover, as I pointed out, the first link you provided dismisses the testimony from the second (and half of the obamas hospital has a copy, the county should have a copy, I guess I am special, I have an exact photocopy of my original birth certificate, lost it in a move, had to write the county and get one, bears the county seal too.

You are apparently unwilling or unable to answer a direct question.
That doesn't help your credibility.

"The document posted on the web alleged to be and wrongly referred to as Obamaï¿½s birth certificate is titled CERTIFICATION OF LIVE BIRTH, and only certifies a baby was born. The purpose of the Certification is to provide documentation for those babies and children who do not have a real birth certificate because they were born at home or outside the country without benefit of a hospital or doctor. When there is no proof of hospital or doctor it proves nothing, just the information attested to by the person filling out the application for a certified document. This is one of the biggest lies promulgated by people ignorant of the facts such as Bill Oï¿½Reilly and Megyn Kelly of FOX who continue to claim that what is posted on the internet is the real deal."

FROM HERE:

Unless your true purpose it to lie for obama, I am sure you will rethink your text.

I think, world wide, there are millions, perhaps billions who realize the value of being able to claim American citizenship -- ask any illegal alien. This should go without explaining -- I'd imagine relative few want it so they can become president ...

When my mother was born, home birth, my grandparents simply notified the paper of the birth, it was printed. Can you quote me the law of newspapers only being able to accept government notification of births, I seem to not be able to find any, why couldn't the family just have notified the paper? -- and remember, this was 1961, home births were not unheard of. However, obama claims his birth hospital to be Kapi'olani Medical Center.

This man, Tim Adams says there is no record, or birth certificate, on record, at that hospital, nor any other in Hawaii:

I don't need Trump to point out that obama doesn't have a birth certificate, obama doesn't have one to show us, obviously!

However, don't be in a rush, let's see what Trump finally comes up with ...

I would accept a valid, long form birth certificate titled "Certificate of Live Birth" AND NOT "Certification of Live Birth."

Some are lost in just the similarities of the names ...

Your argument of why someone would not argue with a moron, once something has already been said, over a subject well covered, is simply insane.

I am in agreement with all in Waco Rules of Engagement which clearly is video proof of criminal action by our public servants.

You thinking a year long argument will make the crimes go away is sheer lunacy ...

Waco was simply a home invasion done by government, military and police. It escalated into mass murder and the bull dozing of evidence ... it destroyed any respect most hold for government ... it only worsens with each and every new crime of government, such as 9/11 and a fraudulent president in public servant office ...

If you haven't got it by now, you will have to seek to clear your ignorance elsewhere ... if you still wish to value, obey and respect the criminal government, simply join the group of people who agree with you. I propose most sensible people are washing their hands of all bonds, ties and allegiances at this time ... only bond left is to fellow citizens and the land of the forefathers and Constitutional law ... let the criminals be damned.

Your questioning of me is just moronic. This matter has been more than discussed over the intervening years.

Any possibly question you can possibly asked finds an answer on the net.
Waco the Rules of Engagement adequately makes the case for a crime, the dead bodies more than make a case for the crime.

I would never be happy until clinton, reno and the gang are on trial.

Your questions and arguments I simply find insane as any possible argument as to the criminals being of no guilt.

I think others can review the evidence and proof and arrive at their own conclusion of what the truth is.

Justice simply goes wanting until enough patriots and honest Americans are able to assembly and deal with the criminals who have infiltrated our government servants ...

The orders she gave were based on lies made by Republicans in the ATF and FBI.
The only mistake she made was in taking Republicans at their word of honor.

Again, I am in agreement with Waco the Rules of Engagement ... Waco is simply another crime against Americans ... when you analyze any crime, the purse snatching, the jealous murders, fraud, embezzlement, sex-torture, child abuse, child molestation ... etc.

I find no sanity, sane motive, or just reason for any ... why would you have Waco be of any difference? Simply because it is done by a gang of criminal public servants?

I would not grant them any celebrity status, they are about as worthless as any drug addict doing a home invasion ...

Contrary to the general laymans' beliefs, the Constitution is a document which acknowledges men are born with all possible rights and only serves to limit a few of these rights so that society and civilization has a proper platform for stability, justice, etc.

However, the Constitution places STRONG LIMITATIONS on the powers given government servants.

Anything not specifically named in the Constitution comes under the cover of "inalienable rights." These rights can neither be forfeited, taken by government servants, nor lost in any other means other than treasonous actions by public servants and overthrow of Constitutional Law ...

odd that the long form is in my possession . not only one ordered but I have ordered it several times and it is always the long form I get back .
The Hawaii myth that you can not get long form is just that . It is there and you have access to it .

what the fuck is this ? : http://www.wnd.com/?pageId=105347 or a better look at the info contained on this " imaginary " BC that can not be obtained :
http://www.wnd.com/?pageId=285921

now for comparison I give you the one that Obama showed |:
http://www.factcheck.org/UploadedFiles/birth_certificate_2.jpg

see the difference ?

your no long form available thing was done in May or April of 2011 .
Long form was ordered obtained and posted in May of 2011 and then when trying for another in April 2011 was told they no longer are available
. how convenient for Obama .
you can read about this here :
http://tpartyus2010.ning.com/profiles/blogs/update-breaking-from-hawaii-no

>Tell me how did Obama's birth announcements get in two Hawaiian newspapers >at the time of his birth? Did this imagined cover-up go back that far.

Not at the time of his birth and also not a official posting by the government . Maybe you do not know it but the family or friends put them in the paper not the dept of health . They were also posted in the paper many days after the fact . in fact over a week later .

This Honolulu Advertiser announcement of Barack Obamaï¿½s Aug 4, 1961 birth was published August 13, 1961 on page B-6 time .

So if Trump shows something you are going to take it as the truth and nor call it a lie ? I think not .

It does not have to be about where he was born . He may very well have been born in Hawaii. If so it is about what info is contained on it that he does not want us to know .

The Hawaii myth that you can not get long form is just that . It is there and you have access to it . Only recently , this month has the state refused to give them out .

Awwww, it wasen't much of a leg injury.What it was, in Vietnam we were hauling some ammo trucks on a canal boat/flat top boat across a River.A big old raggity wire cable slipped off of a pulley.A few of us lean mean fighting machines got into that filthy nasty water to straighten that cable out and get it back on the pulley.That cable scraped against my right leg and scratched my right leg.

At Fort Hood, it got to where my right foot wouldn't walk straight ahead, it would slap out at almost a right angle.The Army Doctor at Fort Sam Houston called it a Filia, sompin like dat.He said it might go away on it's own.If it doesn't, come on back to Fort Sam Houston.Whatever it was, it went away a few weeks later all by itself.I was hopeing it would be a few hours after they checked out my leg so I could tour some of San Antonio.But about an hour later I was back on that Olive Drab bus heading back to Fort Hood.

Army Doctor said, ///Do you feel that?/// I said, Yep.
///How about over here, do you feel it?///
I am not sure, maybe.

In the world of the conspiracy kook any two incidents can be made to relate one to the other by the convoluted thinking of the kook..
It appears to be a mental state bought on by a poor education and low

Since freedom of religion is guaranteed by the Constitution, anyone tampering with it, as wall as any Constitutional guarantees/laws/etc. are immediately dismissed with no respect ...

If the camel gets its' nose under one corner of the tent, the tent is soon gone.

A single nutjob differing with a single element of the Constitution, on glance over, seems little danger. When you realize their is a nutjob out there, somewhere, and one, or more, to differ with any element you can single out of the Constitution, you soon see all nutjobs are to be ignored and not given platform.

Truth is, the forefathers said what the meant, and meant what they said ...

Hello,

I found a radio in a french shop for 25Euros/30$:
http://online.carrefour.fr/Produits/postestereo/defaut?Prod=C00028392&CC={BD254E48-5895-4E18-BEB5-B9D98D2162EA}

It has a very sharp selectivity/sensitivity on FM, on AM is reasonable, on LW weak, and SW is good. Could say the filter is at 3Khz.

And it does RDS !

It might contain the silabs chip...

I also find it here:
http://www.alibaba.com/product-gs/270067214/PLL_Radio_Portable_PLL_Radio_Portable.html

(my model is black).

I tried to open it, but see that the radio consists of 3 shells, and gives problems when opening ...

How were they supposed to know one of Koresh's brainwashed followers would tip him off? They had a legal warrant and every right to arrest the cult leader. He not only had illegal firearms (which he proved) but he tried to rape a child, abused children and split up families. He was a dangerous cult leader and deserved to die. The children however didn't. Koresh and the other adults were responsible for their deaths.

No it can't, not when the government has a legal warrant and the criminals are molesting and abusing children and own illegal firearms and murder government agents.

Frankly, trials and accusations on dead men, when they can't defend themselves, tends to fall upon dead ears here ...

If they really were concerned about evidence of illegal firearms, they probably would not have bulldozed the compound making any proof unobtainable, invalid and worthless ...

The coverup stories are nice fantasy, I like reading Stephen King too ... that man has a great imagination!

Innocent men are accused every day, somewhere in America!

Let's dig him up, examine the evidence from the crime scene and have a trial!

Or, that's right, they bulldozed the evidence.

I'd think a few seconds in a microwave oven, held up off the bottom on an overturned glass would fry that chip! Say 5 - 10 seconds should work?

Or, the aluminum foil, for rfid, should work ...

However, some friends and I have contemplated them being able to scan the magnetic strips on cards with highly sensitive magnetic scanners as you pass through a doorway ... whether this could be done or not is above the level of equipment I have to perform such experiments to find out ... however, just rubbing the strip over a strong magnet destroys the data ... as you have seen has happened when a checker has to manually read and punch in the number from a credit card ...

The three documents, United States Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and the Bill of Rights are intertwined, it is only together they form the sound footing for a government of the people, by the people and for the people to govern themselves with, and to elect public servants to serve them in governing themselves. These public servants, from the president on down are servants, they are not masters, they are not leaders, they are mere servants of the people.

Sometimes, this has been forgotten ...

However, "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness. That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

Needs no interpretation. There is simply no room for slavery in that text!

Too bad none rose up and spoke of those crimes. Too bad, like Waco and 9/11 and the obama birth conspiracy, none pointed out the crime which as happening right before everyone ... I was alive then, I hope I would have been just as vocal about those crimes as the present day crimes. The public servants which allowed a misapplication of law should have been hung, just as now ...

Yet chattel slavery persisted for the better part of a century after the DofI and the ratification of the Constitution and the BofR.

Somehow they managed to find "room" for slavery in those texts.

"No Person held to Service or Labour in one State, under the Laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in Consequence of any Law or Regulation therein, be discharged from such Service or Labour, but shall be delivered up on Claim of the Party to whom such Service or Labour may be due."

There is no need, I'd assume, to quote the 3/5th of a person clause.

There is much in history which is lost and unrepairable, the crimes of Waco, 9/11, clinton, bushes, obama are not ... they should be in a court room as we speak ...

It would be nice to be able to put koresh and the long dead slave owners on trial ... if you find a way, let me know ... no one alive today is responsible ...

The first argument behind this accusation concerns Koreshï¿½s multiple young wives. Jack Harwell, the Sheriff of McLennan County, explained why we should not excuse the raid on this basis:

To this day, we don't have a case that we can make against Vernon Howell [David Koresh] or anyone else for child abuse even though the news media here and other people were saying this is what happened. A man from Australia said this is what happened. But we can never get them to give us anything more that just "we know thatï¿½s what happened." You have to have proof to go into court . . . Keep in mind, too, that most of the girls who were involved were at least 14 years old and 14-year-olds get married with parental consent. So if their parents were there and letting things happen in the way of sexual activities and what have you with their 14-year-old kids, you have common law husbands and wives. Uh, I don't say that I agree with that and that I approve of it. But at the same time, if parents are there and they're giving parental consent, we have a problem with that in making a case.

Yes, I agree -- but...

Remember what was going on at the time: the founders were relatively unknown, working on principles that were unheard of at the time, defining a new form of governance, first written constitution, seeking/fighting for independence, etc., etc., etc. Any person at the time would have been considered a fool to think that the nascent nation would survive more than a few years, at best.

Had they pushed the contentious issue of slavery at that time, the great experiment would have clearly failed.

I'm not justifying slavery in any way, shape, or form, but I view the 'acceptance' of it as a necessary evil. Further, issues relating to citizens, their rights, etc. were the (largely) exclusive domain of the states themselves. So, slavery wasn't so much a blight on the federal government as it was a blight on the states themselves. Any state could have abolished slavery at any time, no 'permission' was required from the feds.

Finally, there were those that DID know and realize the problem of slavery. Although Jefferson had slaves, he knew that slavery -- if not resolved -- would be the "death knell" of the nation.

Why not impugn the states that permitted slavery? After all, they could have easily outlawed slavery of their own accord.

Further, the original intent of the federal government wasn't to meddle in the affairs within the state, nor of the people; such was considered the (largely) exclusive domain of the states proper (ref. Amendment X).

Only modern 'interpretation' of the intent of government has caused the federal to be come unjustly involved in the affairs of the people.

You might compare that with the number of lives lost on 9-11. Or the economic injury incurred from that event.
It would have been cheaper in both lives and money to just suffer another 9-11 every six or seven years.

Design looks like a Kchibo model, but the manufacturer of the MT-C333SW seems to be Shenzhen Modeltime, whose website is down (www.modeltime.com.cn).

Does it have selectable MW step (9/10 KHz)?

We certainly can't deny you are a troll though.

http://www.thepostemail.com/2011/04/07/exposing-the-birth-certificate-lies-used-to-cover-for-obama/

THIS FROM THE FIRST URL:
"The document posted on the web alleged to be and wrongly referred to as Obamaï¿½s birth certificate is titled CERTIFICATION OF LIVE BIRTH, and only certifies a baby was born. The purpose of the Certification is to provide documentation for those babies and children who do not have a real birth certificate because they were born at home or outside the country without benefit of a hospital or doctor. When there is no proof of hospital or doctor it proves nothing, just the information attested to by the person filling out the application for a certified document. This is one of the biggest lies promulgated by people ignorant of the facts such as Bill Oï¿½Reilly and Megyn Kelly of FOX who continue to claim that what is posted on the internet is the real deal."

The desperation is obvious as they attempt to fool people into accepting the fraudulent "Certification of Live Birth" as a real long form birth certificate is simply shameless and the bottom of desperation!

The obama deception machine is on the run and the defensive!

From
http://geography.about.com/od/specificplacesofinterest/a/panamacanal.htm

"Although the French had attempted construction of a canal in the 1880s, the Panama Canal was successfully built from 1904 to 1914. Once the canal was complete the U.S. held a swath of land running the approximately 50 miles across the isthmus of Panama.

The division of the country of Panama into two parts by the U.S. territory of the Canal Zone caused tension throughout the twentieth century. Additionally, the self-contained Canal Zone (the official name for the U.S. territory in Panama) contributed little to the Panamanian economy. The residents of the Canal Zone were primarily U.S. citizens and West Indians who worked in the Zone and on the canal.

Anger flared in the 1960s and led to anti-American riots. The U.S. and Panamanian governments began to work together to solve the territorial issue. In 1977, U.S. President Jimmy Carter signed a treaty which agreed to return 60% of the Canal Zone to Panama in 1979. The canal and remaining territory, known as the Canal Area, was returned to Panama at noon (local Panama time) on December 31, 1999.

Additionally, from 1979 to 1999, a bi-national transitional Panama Canal Commission ran the canal, with an American leader for the first decade and a Panamanian administrator for the second. The transition at the end of 1999 was very smooth, for over 90% of the canal employees were Panamanian by 1996.

The 1977 treaty established the canal as a neutral international waterway and even in times of war any vessel is guaranteed safe passage. After the 1999 hand-over, the U.S. and Panama jointly shared duties in defending the canal."

In thinking you might have anything of value to say, yes, I must admit, guilty as charged.

Indeed it has.

Yes, on the part of David Koresh.

Quite frankly, based on your performance in this discussion, I doubt that you could recognize sanity if I spotted you "SAN_TY" and let you buy a vowel.

>and arrive at their own

Indeed.

>Justice simply goes wanting until enough patriots and honest Americans

Quite frankly, I fear your stated idea of "patriots and honest Americans" ever gaining access to power far more than I fear what we have now, not because I distrust patriots and honest Americans, but because you don't seem to have any grounding in reality on which to base your definitions.

Y@G : Repeating the Liberal-Secularist Lie
Again and Again : Does Not Make It True.

REAL FACTS + HONEST TRUTH :
Five [5] CS Gas Shells Fired Per Christian Killed :
Most Died From The CS Gas Asphyxia
http://groups.google.com/group/rec.radio.shortwave/msg/2a4d1b109bd4fedf http://groups.google.com/group/rec.radio.shortwave/msg/65aaada28c43250e

FACT : FBI fired more than Four Hundred [400] CS Gas Shells [40mm~1.6"] containing CS Powder through the walls and all windows of the Mr. Carmel Church.
http://www.boogieonline.com/revolution/firearms/enforce/waco/fire/cs_gas.html
* CS Gas Shells are Seldom Use -because-
 They Are A Highly Flammable Gas Charge -easily-ignited-by-any-open-flame-or-spark-
 They Are A Potential Explosive Gas Charge
When Too Many Are Used All At Once
-high-cs-gas-densities-are-extremely-explosive-
-easily-set-off-by-a-spark-from-a-bullet-or-tracer-round-

CAUTION : Highly Flammable CS Gas {Explosive} Fired by the FBI & BATF Attackers at the Christians.
WARNING : Hot Bullets including TracerRounds Fired by the FBI & BATF Attackers at the Christians.
RESULT : Instant Flash Fire a/o Explosion inside Rooms a/o Buildings being Attacked using both.
CONCLUSION : The FBI & BATF Attackers Caused
The Fires and Killed the 74 Christians.
NOTE : Many Dead Before The Fires Started :

No Smoke [Particles} in Their Lungs and High Levels [Deadly] of CS Gas Components in their Lungs and Blood; including Hydrogen Cyanide*
http://www.wizardsofaz.com/waco/cs1.html
* A Burning "CS" Gas By-Product
ALSO : During that same time, it also pumped CS Powder* from Military Tanks into the building.
http://www.wizardsofaz.com/waco/cs1.html
* Actually a Deadly Combination of CS Gas and MC (Methylene Chloride) which when it Burns produces Hydrogen Cyanide Gas thus Creating a Gas [Death] Chamber fro all those Trapped and Killed inside the Buildings.

The Davidians Were In-Fact 'Gassed-To-Death' [Auschwitz]
The FBI and BATF Used the Most CS Gas Ever Used On

A) SETI is unable to get any funding and has been shut down . That is very sad . B) That 'ufo' must be from China-- hence the cat-like meowing on the VHF aero channel .

So actually, you've been following him around for seven years, not just three. My word!

He must have really made you look like a real fool to inspire this kind of attention. But don't you suppose that all this attention makes you look even more foolish? It certainly does to me.

Which is a good reason to put some standards on the process. A cop should know what is required to get a warrant before he goes to the judge.

Every cop I've known knows Exactly what is required to get a warrant from every judge he deals with.

If he knows he must provide evidence that X% probability is required he will not waste time if he cannot substantiate that probability.

NONE of them deal in Probabilities as You know them, and they are not predisposed to change.

The Treaty {not a lease} did not run-out : Jimmy back; just another act where Carter {The Traitor} Looked-Out for the Interests of the Internationalist

The government of Iran is overthrown by Iranian rebels and the CIA in a coup codenamed Operation Ajax. The coup was planned by CIA operative Kermit Roosevelt after receiving the blessings of the US and British governments. Muhammad Mosaddeq is deposed and the CIA promptly reinstates Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi on the throne. The Shahï¿½s secret police, SAVAK, trained by the CIA and Israelï¿½s Mossad, are widely perceived as being as brutal and terrifying as the Nazi Gestapo in World War II. British oil interests in Iran, partially nationalized under previous governments, are returned to British control. American oil interests are retained by 8 private oil companies, who are awarded 40% of the Iranian oil industry. US General Norman Schwarzkopf, Sr. (father of the general with the same name in the 1991 Gulf War) helps the Shah develop the fearsome SAVAK secret police. [ZNet, 12/12/2001; Global Policy Forum, 2/28/2002] Author Stephen Kinzer will say in 2003, "The result of that coup was that the Shah was placed back on his throne. He ruled for 25 years in an increasingly brutal and repressive fashion. His tyranny resulted in an explosion of revolution in 1979 the event that we call the Islamic revolution. That brought to power a group of fanatically anti-Western clerics who turned Iran into a center for anti-Americanism and, in particular, anti-American terrorism. The Islamic regime in Iran also inspired religious fanatics in many other countries, including those who went on to form the Taliban in Afghanistan and give refuge to terrorists who went on to attack the United States. The anger against the United States that flooded out of Iran following the 1979 revolution has its roots in the American role in crushing Iranian democracy in 1953. Therefore, I think itï¿½s not an exaggeration to say that you can draw a line from the American sponsorship of the 1953 coup in Iran, through the Shahï¿½s repressive regime, to the Islamic revolution of 1979 and the spread of militant religious fundamentalism that produced waves of anti-Western terrorism." [Stephen Kinzer, 7/29/2003]

The Publicans will remind us of the TV show, "The Agency" and tell us how it was fabricate by the CIA on orders from the White House. And just to compound the hyprocrisy, the will also criticize him for wasting time and taxpayer money on responding to the birther nuts.

Did you notice that President Obana criticized the birthers, calling it "silliness"? It will really hurt their feelings, proving that they can dish it out, but they can't take it, expecially when it is the truth. They will seek to avenge their embarrassment by proving it is a forgery.

Were you claiming the false document was a real birth certificate?

Now we have the real document to look at and help us find out the real story ... gesus what a hassle to get him to come up with a real birth certificate.

Now, we will have to see if he is a natural born citizen and he didn't surrender his citizenship to become an indonesian citizen and if he even

I am highly aware that people attempt to forge false documents. Indeed, it could be called a common practice in this day and age of identity fraud.

I don't have the equipment or people to properly examine and question the document, I will have to leave that to others ... if they come up with anything worthwhile, we will chat it up here, I am sure.

However, there is still the other discussion of if he is qualified and eligible to be president, we now might have the real birth certificate where this can finally be determined.

No now we have the real looking one .

Hawaii already stated many times that no one can obtain a long form
BC .

Hawaii officials also stated that no long form existed . They it was missing .

Hawaii also stated to Anderson cooper's team , aired yesterday , that you can get one just ask for it ..."???? WTF . thought you could not do that .

Oh yes and Hawaii has a law forbidding the release of the long form
BC.

But Obama just happens to find his .

anyone can forge a document . Anyone can pay a person on the take to sign it and swear it is legal .

Confabulated and lying to the very end ... you go on record ...

With the real birth certificate (supposedly) we now can properly have this issue examined. If a valid document, this fulfills the requirement demanded by the Constitution, but only as far as birth proof.

The parents nationality, whether he ever surrendered citizenship, to assume citizenship of another country, the legal questions of the influence of his parents citizenship, etc. will all need to be examined also, after this document has had time to be properly vetted ...

Just ending the lies of the false certification being proper has ended ... those nutjobs are now on record ...

The questions raised by the statement by the Governor of Hawaii stating that the long form certificate did not exist, aside, John, the real issues should be defeating this guy at the polls and defeating his agenda in the political arena.

Put your energy there. Even if what you suspect were to be true, there's no entity in the nation that's going to remove him from office, nor negate his policies based on the birth issue alone.

Put your energy into educating your opponents about policy, the lessons of history, and strength of the founding documents in a Third Millenium world.

Put your energy where it can inspire action.

There is no Constitutional requirement for a paper trail of his birth.

And there have been Supreme Court decisions which indicated that a president does not need to be born in the U.S. or a U.S. territory if he has a U.S. citizen as a parent.

But as I said before - the nuts cannot accept that Obama is president of the U.S. Therefore, they must create fantasies and ignore facts to satisfy themselves that he's not a legitimate president.

Your text is well taken here. You name very important ideals, and truth.

However, this needs followed to the very end. This issue of a president eligibility NEVER NEEDS HAPPEN AGAIN!

THE ROOTS OF OBAMA's RAGE

The real Obama is a man shaped by experiences far different from those of most Americans; he is a much stranger, more determined, and exponentially more dangerous man than you'd ever imagined. He is not motivated by the civil rights struggles of African Americans in the 1960s those battles leave him wholly untouched. He is not motivated by the socialist or Marxist propaganda that hypnotized a whole generation of wooly minded academics and condescending liberals those concepts also leave him cold.

What really motivates Barack Obama is an inherited rage an often masked, but profound rage that comes from his African father; an anticolonialist rage against Western dominance, and most especially against the wealth and power of the very nation Barack Obama now leads. It is this rage that explains the previously inexplicable, and that gives us a startling look at what might lie ahead.

In The Roots of Obama's Rage you'll learn: Why Obama's economic policies are actually designed to make America poorer compared to the rest of the world Why Obama will welcome a nuclear Iran Why Obama sees America as a rogue nation worse than North Korea The real reason Obama banished a bust of Winston Churchill from the White House and ordered NASA to praise the scientific contributions of Muslims Why Obama would like to make America's superpower status a thing of the past

HOW OBAMA THINKS

Barack Obama is the most antibusiness president in a generation, perhaps in American history. Thanks to him the era of big government is back. Obama runs up taxpayer debt not in the billions but in the trillions. He has expanded the federal government's control over home mortgages, investment banking, health care, autos and energy.

Barack Obama's Moral Concession to Evil

American presidents who declare that they will bow to the demands of dictators who threaten American citizens are declaring that there is nothing they will not betray. For those who were disturbed by President Obama's diffidence in the face of Qaddafi's wickedness, it's worse than you think. The ramifications of Mr. Obama's actions will outlive whatever happens in Tripoli.

Now when Obama in fact has given the proof of his birth, what do say now
"John Smith"? Another forgergery? This whole "debate" has racistic undertones if you ask me. Donald Trump's mother was born in Scotland. If he were to run for the presidency, who would ask him for a proof of his citizenship? I guess very few since he's a WASP. But luckily he will never be a prez. Thanks God.

Now Donald Trump is taking credit for the fact that Obama has presented the proof. Yeah right! Mr Trump is left with no credibility and egg all over his face.
The whole debate (read conspiracy theory) has been embarrasing for your country and a waste of time. Time better spent to solve the problems you US-citizens really have. Thankfully I live in Scandinavia and from here the US political scene looks a bit like a kindergarten. Get a grip an solve the real issues.

The constitution required only that he be a natural born citizen. The you nutjobs.

Even if he took up citizenship of another country, it is still possible for him to retake US citizenship and STILL fulfill the requirements of the constitution. After all, he WAS born in the US.

His parents citizenship has absolutely nothing to do with it.

This document came from the same place as the other that you disputed, the registrar of births, deaths and marriages.

The US government was quite satisfied with the original. It's just you nutjobs who aren't and, even now, are looking to dispute the document you demanded to see.

Then consider this:

IF--and that's a big 'if'--IF there is any truth to what you're asserting, there is no mechanism in the Constitution from removing the man from his office.

No Court can do it. And there is no political will to do it. But even IF, and again a big 'if', there were some corrupt internal process protecting the man's chair from legal processes to remove him, the REAL solution would still be to defeat him at the polls and defeat his policies in the political process.

In this light, the birth issue is, in all practical terms, academic. And pursuit of it is a waste of time and resources that can be better applied to other processes. Don't let him continue to work his damage while you concentrate on an academic issue.

The man still needs to be defeated. The man's policies still need to be defeated.

Put your energy there. Regardless of the processes by which he achieved power, and regardless of the process by which he may keep it, the REAL correction is in his defeat. Put your energy into that.

And worry about the birth issue once he's been defeated. And revise the process so it can't happen again once he's been stopped from doing the damage he seems determined to do. But don't let him continue to do what he's doing while you worry about something that will not produce a result.

Literally, because it's the only land they own. Why do you live in an earthquake prone area? Not everyone can pull up stakes and start over again from scratch in a truly benign place (is there such a thing?).

Nope... the east coast and gulf coast have their hurricanes, the midwest has tornadoes and droughts, as well as one of the largest fault zones in the country, the west coast has fun stuff like volcanoes, earthquakes, tsunami, mudslides, etc. Everybody has their occasional killer storms, fires, and the like.

Korea is geologically stable (go figure), but we have our typhoons and yellow wind (sand blown down from the Gobi desert, lots of fun to breathe.. most Koreans walk around with surgical masks on).

Facts? You want facts?

Here are some facts for you...

Facts about what the Repubs want:

* Take money away from the EPA (our kids don't need no stinkin' clean air)

* Take money away from the FAA (Who needs airline safety?)

* Kill Medicare. We'll privatize it. (Apparently -forgetting- that Medicare was brought in to being because the private insurance industry would not insure senior citizens).

* And then they give the money they "save" above to the rich in the form of additional tax breaks.

Now there's some facts for you. I'll leave it up to you to decide if those are brain dead proposals or not.

Huh?

If a pregnant American woman is on vacation and gives birth overseas, the baby is an American citizen. There is no "five year timer" to be reset.

If the mother is an American citizen in America (Hawaii) and her child is born in America, the child is an American citizen, period. There is no "five year timer".

Please stop drinking the birther Kooktard Kool-Aid (tm).

Their policies are bankrupt, unacceptable to the vast majority of Americans, hence the birth issue.

Historically, such conditions have had people complaining about the policies. Red herrings aren't needed. Lies aren't needed.

But in this case, the policies are the same as Bush's. If they are unacceptable, then so are the Republicans.

On the other hand, polls indicate that the opposition's proposals are even more unacceptable. So discussing the issues are low on the priorities of politicians.

Its not a problem, its an opportunity! Corporate media ratings rise because of the sensational reports produced by the war on drugs. Which increases ad revenues and profits. The last thing they want is a solution to drug abuse. And of course, law enforcement gets paid for fighting the war on drugs, not winning it.

The thing that's the most stupid about this is his mom is from Kansas. She is indisputably American. Any child she had would be an American citizen, no matter where the child was born. Since citizenship is guaranteed, the only reason you'd want to fake having your child born in the USA is if you were sure he was going to run for POTUS 45 years later.

The odds of that are about zero, especially at that time. When half-black Barack Obama was born, the Civil Rights Act still hadn't been passed yet. The last thing his parents were thinking about was this baby's gonna be President of the United States. The KKK was still lynching people in Mississipi at that time.

I can't imagine you 'attending' a symposium, much less having your

It worked, didn't it?

When they told him he was "working" there, he didn't seem to mind his Problem was just as he indicated. He spent his waking hours in the restrooms annoying the other guests ... peeking in stalls, grabbing arse, making perverted signs towards body parts, leering, etc.

There is a difference between a common citizen and a natural born citizen. POTUS requires a natural born citizen only. Under the 14th amendment there are two stipulations for being a citizen, 1. Be born here in the US, and 2. You have to be under US jurisdiction.

For example, you can be born here in the US and still not be a US citizen. In the famous ELK case, Elk was ruled NOT a US citizen even though he was born in America. At the time of his birth, his parents were members of an Indian tribe, and thus NOT under US jurisdiction. This stipulation in the 14th amendment also applies to people temporarily in the US and foreign diplomats.

Obama Sr. was a British Subject. He maintained a DOMICILE in Kenya, where he his children lived. DOMICILE is a legal term. You can have only one under the law. If you are domiciled in Kenya, then you can only be in the USA temporarily and Obama Sr. was here in the US temporarily on a scholarship. At no time did he go through naturalization or renounce his status as a British Subject. He married Ann. Under both American and British laws at the time, any baby so born would have been born a BRITISH SUBJECT regardless of where the baby was born. The nationality of the baby is derived from the father in a marriage and Obama Sr. gave Obama Jr. the gift of being a British Subject from the moment of birth.

You cannot. Hawaii agreed to carve out an exception in this one case.

Ummm, the governor of Hawaii never said it did not exist.

Here is Gov. Neil Abercrombie's actual quote:

"It actually exists."

This is not waffling or equivocation. There is no doubt. He did NOT say it did not exist. That is simply one more birfer lie.

I heard it first on ABC Radio news in the car. Sorry, I wasn't recording.

It made the Trib and the Sun-Times. Look it up.

It made CBS evening news, as well. Katie Couric presented the story, herself.

For two days, it was everywhere.

I'm not surprised you missed it.

The Donald said it many times. Don't you consider that an even higher authority than a mere governor of Hawaii (actually, two governors)?

There is no requirement to have been born in the USA, only to be a natural-born citizen (George Romney was accepted as a legitimate candidate even though he was born outside the United States, probably because he was a white Publican). There are only two classes of citizens: natural-born and naturalized (plus the Zonians like John McCain who were retroactively granted automatic citizneship by Act of Congress in 1937). When all other false accusations have been disproven, the racist Publican birthers will start denying that his mother was an American.

"I am about to file another law suit against Obama as I believe he is not ï¿½natural bornï¿½, not ï¿½naturalizedï¿½, but Obama is an ï¿½illegal alienï¿½ as it appears he returned at age ten [10] to the United States on his Indonesia Passport and therefore, his term as a U.S. Senator from Illinois was fraud and Obama should not have been a U.S. Senator and also, cannot be President."

is not bad as long as they still work.

??? There is no requirement for the president to be born in the US, only that he be a "natural born citizen". His mother being one, makes him one also. US citizen has a kid in a foriegn country, reports to the Embassy, registers birth. Done - eligble to be president.

I am here because no one will pay me to play with radios and stuff in other places. Also the weather is very nice. When the earthquake happens all my stuff will still be right here, dry and in one piece. I don't hang glass on the wall. I don't have heavy tall cabinets. I have latching arrangements on the kitchen cabinets. My water heater is strapped to the garage wall in 4 places. I have a scissors jack putting tension on the bottom of my furnace (against the flue riser pipe thing) to keep that from falling over and ripping a gas line.

It's possible this thing could jump off the slab, but unlikely as we don't get them much bigger than 7, 7.5 tops. Give or take.

And so YOU would be exhibiting symptoms of "anti-Stockholm

Yeah, and that quite obvious scam has been shown invalid:
"And remember, NISTï¿½s computer program is irrelevant, since the PHYSICAL model did not collapse. NIST hired Underwriters Laboratory (UL) to built twice the oxygen, and twice the physical load, the physical model did not collapse. The floor beams did sag 4 inches. Compare this to NISTï¿½s unphysical computer model which they had to tweek to 44 inches before

My old house has two floor furnaces, one of them is in my living room near the six feet wide doorway (there is no actual door there and there never was, maybe it is called a passage way? Sheet, I don't know.I do know my house is a Cape Cod style house, built in 1947) next to my dining room.The other one is in the hallway, near my bathroom.The one near my bathroom, I haven't used that one since the 1980s, and my old house has a crawlspace underneath there, enough headroom for me to sit under there.I am thinking I might get rid of that old furnace, old rusty thing, I doubt if it is safe to use anymore.Doggy and I could get down in the crawlspace real Quick in case a tornado starts coming toward my house.Do you follow me?

I don't use any natural gas anymore, I don't trust natural gas.Electric heating and electric water heater and electric stove.I might get rid of the floor furnace in my living room too.Each one of the floor furnace floor openings/holes in the floor (hardwood floor) measures about 31'' by 21'' That is enough room for me to squeeze down under there.If a tornado hits and I can't come up I can crawl over to the crawlspace opening (house sits on a concrete foundation) by the side of my house. cuhulin, a Survivor, I Hope

He was asked exactly that at a news conference yesterday. In response, he talked about something totally different. When the reporter said "You didn't answer my question", he said
"I believe I did", so.....yup.

Its the farther that has to qualify not the mother! Obama senior was DOMICILE to kenya not the USA.

Obama Sr. gave Obama Jr. the gift of being a British Subject from the moment of birth.

Think of it this way, If YOU went to France, and knocked up a woman, married her, and then had a baby... that baby wouldn't be a French citizen, it would be an American citizen born abroad. It would inherit your gift of American citizenship, but would not be a natural born American citizen under any stretch of the law.

The US government, as stated in court cases, does NOT recognize dual citizenship in matters of "natural born citizens." You either are a natural born citizen or you are not. So all this business about birth certificates is deception to hide the fact that Obama is NOT eligible to be POTUS. This is quite clear in the law, the US Constitution, Vattel's Law of Nations, the 14th amendment, and the British and American laws on naturalization at the time.

There is also the matter of when he left America and went to Indonesia where he would have been forced to renounce his citizenship. To re enter this nation he would've had to have gone through NATURALIZATION, which by itself would have meant he would be ineligible as POTUS.

What is taking place now is that Obama, Barry Soetoro, a CIA manchurian candidate and crony of the Bush Crime family, is purposely lying and deceiving every caring American. This man is NOT your president, mine, or anyone's. He is an illegal criminal usurper.

Yeah, yeah, yeah ... heard it all before. You can't expect the same rules and laws which apply to the commoners to apply to the ones imagining themselves royalty!

If we had kept on the ball and imprisoned and/or hung these vile criminals, as we found them, we would not be having the job of cleaning them up now ...

You must have money to burn. As far as not trusting methane, that's like Seeing as you are quoting media, today's (4/28) Republican, conservative, Obama disliking Wall Street Journal Editorial page says that birther quackism is a NON-ISSUE and that they believe Obama IS an American citizen.

Who'd a thunk that these kooktards think they know more than all the investigative Wall Street Journal reporters.

But, hey, it's sort of entertaining to watch the birther kooktards back-pedal...and tap-dance.

Ummm, no...this coming from Sully Sulleberger, "Hero of the Hudson", the pilot that landed his plane in the Hudson River, the guy that was on national TV saying the FAA cuts are a bad thing. Not a "TSA cry baby".

Huh? You miss the point. If you are referring to the so-called "Obama care", Obama is making sure people -get- health care. Ryan is -taking away- health care. Big difference. Please explain why:

1) Many, many REPUBLICAN seniors are against Ryan's Medicare plan.

2) Explain why you think privatization will work now when it hasn't worked before. Privatization failed so miserably, it caused Medicare to be created in the first place.

You seem to have conveniently tap-danced around those points.

Huh? "No one said anything about additional breaks."? Ryan wants to reduce taxes on the rich from 35% to 25%. Pay attention.

In principle, I agree with that, but killing Medicare is hardly "streamlining" and reducing the wealthy tax rate from 35 to 25% does not create revenue.

Its the farther that has to qualify not the mother! Obama senior was DOMICILE to kenya not the USA.

moment of birth.

Think of it this way, If YOU went to France, and knocked up a woman, married her, and then had a baby... that baby wouldn't be a French citizen, it would be an American citizen born abroad. It would inherit your gift of American citizenship, but would not be a natural born American citizen under any stretch of the law.

I guess you're incapable of reading the law expressed in plain English. My quotes plainly state otherwise. Also, a child may have dual citizenship (US/anywhere else) until age 18, when they are supposed to choose one or the other. There are, however, even exceptions to this.

As for your "example", I can debunk this one personally. My spouse was born in France, to a US GI and a French mother. The French government very much insists that Pat is a French citizen.

No you didn't. It didn't happen. You're lying. we know you're lying because here is what Abercrombia actually did say: "It actually exists." This of course is the complete opposite of your claim that he said it did not exist. So, long story short, you're just another rightarded liar. nothing new there.

> Sorry, I wasn't > recording.

But you are, of course, lying.

> It made the Trib and the Sun-Times.

No, it did not. It was not in either paper.

> Look it up.

No, dipshit, YOU are the one who claims it exists; it is YOUR job to fetch it. I know it does NOT exist. Therefore, liar, onus is on you.

> It made CBS evening news, as well.

No, it didn't. Present the cite if you think so.

But once again, you'll run away since you KNOW you've been caught lying.

> Katie Couric presented the story, > herself.

No she didn't, kook.

> For two days, it was everywhere.

No it wasn't as it is indisputable FACT that it never happened. Here is Abercrombie's actual quote: "It actually exists." How you manage to twist your lie out of that, well, only a truly delusional rightard can come up with such bullshit.

> I'm not surprised you missed it.

I missed nothing.

I'll give you a hand, compassionate as I am: You are twisting what really happened into your lie by adding a false claim that Abercrombia said it didn't exist, when in fact he said "It actually exists."

What REALLY happened was that Abercrombie vowed to release Obama's birth certificate when he became governor. Upon trying to do so, he discovered this little thing called "THE LAW." Not even governors or presidents can violate it. THE LAW prohibited Hawaii from releasing someone's birth records to anyone not entitled, and the governor didn't qualify to release Obama's records, or anyone else's for that matter except his own.

So what Abercrombie said was that although he promised to release it, he discovered it was not legal for him to do so but that he verified "it actually exists."

PS: For Obama to be able to obtain his long form, he had to petition Hawaii for an exception to its standing rule that originals are not released.

Wouldn't it be fun! A true joak candidate. The small matter of how he wrecked a limo in a post-cocaine rage is nothing when compared to trashy lives of his pot smoking predecessors. McCain will be Prez. It's obvious. One beat up arm bests a ridiculous comb over. Oh, and the shaggy dyed eyebrows. However, it would be sooo much FUN.

Isn't that how Palin got into office? Those voting with their little heads instead of their big heads?

The law says no such thing, of course, WrongTurnJoe. You're just lying, again.

What the law does say is that regardless of the nationality of EITHER parent, any child born on US soil except those of diplomats posted here on assignment is AUTOMATICALLY a natural born US citizen eligible to be president.

This is not even remotely open to dispute.

Lie of course.

Sux to be on the losing side in each and every argument like you, don't it, WrongTurn?

No, there is a difference between a natural born citizen and a naturalized citizen. Those are the only two kinds -- at birth, or later. No other possibility exists. Obama is at-birth US citizen. Not in dispute.

No it does not. Only diplomats. Children of aliens passing through, even illegally, count as natural born citizens. This is not in dispute. this is centuries of legal precedence.

1) Yes I can...but it's obviously not about me.

2) Just how do you know he made his money "honorably"? There is a well documented story of him cheating a little old lady out of her house so he could have a parking lot for his casino. How "honorable" of him.

3) I'm glad you said "seems to have managed to make a pot full of money".

He has gone BANKRUPT not once, not twice but THREE times -- a real rocket scientist business man, huh? Furthermore, many doubt his supposed wealth; they think he is leveraged to the hilt.

Much much more, dearie. I've not gone bankrupt four times, for starters, and stuck innocent people with my debts.

Liberty Net: April 23, 2011

http://3950.net/2011/04/liberty-net-april-23-2011/

by Kevin Strom, WB4AIO

N2IRJï¿½s W1WCR-DESIGNED Beverage antenna was back in action during the latest Liberty Net, and, if the increased check-ins of new stations are any indication, it seems that more and more people are discovering, enjoying, and participating in the longest-running discussion net on the amateur radio airwaves.

Here are just a few of the subjects brought up and debated this week:

ï¿½ To restore the American economy, massive numbers of useless or oppressive government employees must be let go; and our disastrous wars for Israel in the Mideast must be ended, and our troops withdrawn. But how will we keep these people out of the unemployment lines? Itï¿½s simple: Use our troops to expel the Mestizo invaders and then have them keep our southern border secure ï¿½ millions of jobs will then become available for our own people. (23 minutes)

ï¿½ The EU and the UK want to retaliate against Iceland because that island nation refused to pay off the imaginary ï¿½loansï¿½ made to them by the bankers. Will this retaliation be purely economic, or will it rise to the level of military aggression? Will it be successful in yoking Icelandï¿½s workers to the bankers, literally enslaving them? (35 minutes)

ï¿½ Take a close look at the history of Donald Trump. You may well conclude that you donï¿½t want him anywhere near the US Treasury. (1 hour 15 minutes)

ï¿½ Mass immigration and overpopulation (mostly caused by a huge non-White birthrate) give the oligarchs exactly what they want: The ability to pay ever-lower wages and fire workers at will, because there are always plenty of other peons desperate for a job. (1 hour 20 minutes)

ï¿½ Is there any presidential hopeful ï¿½ besides Ron Paul ï¿½ who is not 100% owned by the Zionists and finance capital? (1 hour 35 minutes)

ï¿½ Our society, on every level, is now based on debt ï¿½ which is exactly how the bankers want it, since debt, public and private, is a form of indentured servitude. Such a system can only lead to misery for most of us, and can only end in collapse. (1 hour 45 minutes)

ï¿½ The underclass is easily deceived ï¿½ and they have by far the highest birthrate. This does not bode well for mass democracy. And it practically guarantees the continual election of phonies ï¿½ actors like Bush and Obama who really work for the money-men. (1 hour 57 minutes)

ï¿½ Is Michael Lerner a patsy? Is he a phony ï¿½economic terroristï¿½ set up by the banks to deflect blame for collapsing the economy away from the real perpetrators? (2 hours 1 minute)

ï¿½ In the new America that our enemies have built, the Treasury Secretary actually reports to Ben Bernanke, head of the private banking firm misnamed the Federal Reserve. If thatï¿½s not illegal and unconstitutional, nothing is. (2 hours 7 minutes)

Remember that you can receive the Liberty Net on an open frequency around 3950 kHz every Saturday night at 10PM Eastern Time (in recent weeks, DRM interference has caused the area from 3960 to 3993 to be chosen quite often). You can also listen live on the Internet via N2SAG (who also includes a lively chat room during Net hours) or N2IRJ, or listen at your leisure via the mp3 files posted here at http://3950.net every week.

The complete net recording is posted at the very top of the right column (under ï¿½Liberty Net Audioï¿½) here on http://3950.net ï¿½ usually on the Sunday immediately following the net, so look for it there if youï¿½d like to listen. The articles and summaries (like this one, found in the center column) show up a few days to a week later.

Once again, thanks to W1WCR and all participants for making this extraordinary net possible ï¿½ and please check in!

The PDF is composed of multiple images. That’s correct. Using a photo editor or PDF viewer of your choice, you can extract this image data, view it, hide it, etc. But these layers, as they’re being called, aren’t layers in the traditional photo-editing sense of the word. They are, quite literally, pieces of image data that have been positioned in a PDF container. They appear as text but also contain glyphs, dots, lines, boxes, squiggles, and random garbage. They’re not combined or merged in any way. Quite simply, they look like they were created programmatically, not by a human.

What’s plausible is that somewhere along the way — from the scanning device to the PDF-creation software, both of which can perform OCR (optical character recognition) — these partial/pseudo-text images were created and saved. What’s not plausible is that the government spent all this time manufacturing Obama’s birth certificate only to commit the laughably rookie mistake of exporting the layers from Photoshop, or whatever photo editing software they are meant to have used. It’s likely that whoever scanned the birth certificate in Hawaii forgot to turn off the OCR setting on the scanner. Let’s leave it at that.

UPDATE: I’ve confirmed that scanning an image, converting it to a PDF, optimizing that PDF, and then opening it up in Illustrator, does in fact create layers similar to what is seen in the birth certificate PDF. You can try it yourself at home.

UPDATE II: For those of you who still aren’t convinced, here’s a one-page PDF that I just scanned and optimized, so you can see for yourself that an optimized PDF shows up in Illustrator as layers. (I didn’t spend hours getting the settings right.)

I have many problems with Trump, and would not vote for him if he were the only choice available. What I am saying is that he has probably accomplished more in his life than any of us on Usenet, and certainly more than our current president.

Like a black man becoming president over a country full of racist white people wasn't any kind of accomplishment - and doing so without going bankrupt 4 times and getting married three times! Who's the

First Superman comic books I read was back in the 1940s, comic books cost ten cents back then.I don't know what they cost nowadays.

Superman, Never Say Goodbye, just let them wonder where you went! I hope Lex Luthor Really! gets your ass next time!

Actually, I liked Dick Tracy and Batman and Robin and Plastic Man and The Durango Kid and Six Gun Heros and Lash LaRue and Sad Sack and Archie Andrews and Veronica and (my first grade school teacher lady) and a whole slew of other comic books much better than Superman.

Actually, it's pretty implausible that they would make an amateurish Photoshop version of the birth certificate rather than simply create a forged document. Seriously, all this fuss about the "original birth certificate". Do we honestly believe the most powerful man on Earth couldn't forge any document he wanted? The physical birth certificate has never been as convincing as the hospital records, the archived birth announcements, and the testimony of the (Republican) governor of Hawaii and the (Republican) head of Hawaiian records (things which no white man has ever been asked to produce).

I wish the birthers would just come out and admit that nothing - including a time machine - would ever convince them. Why did it take Obama so long to release it? I think we can see why now. He knew it wouldn't accomplish anything...

...except to make Trump look even more buffoonish, which is something.

These people actually believe that running a business (along with repeated bankruptcies and the ripping off of little old ladies) is actually more noteworthy than becoming president of the USA. Some people seem to have a rather distorted set of values.

John, there is no mechanism, Constitutional, or otherwise, that will allow the removal of a sitting President over this issue. There is also no political will to do it.

Meanwhile, he continues to do his damage, as outraged citizens such as yourself look at an issue that will produce no results.

Focus, John. This is a dead end. Look to issues that will produce results.

One can easily make the case that Obama's major accomplishment since becoming President has been to destroy the USA. Are you really sure that you want to applaud this?

Crime is always an issue, especially when it involves our highest public servant position -- ignoring events/situations/hoaxs/frauds/etc. of this magnitude is how we have arrived at the deplorable position we now find ourselves within. A call to continue this is simply moronic in nature, no disrespect intended.

Don't you first have to have a mind for the LSD to affect it?

ARLP017 Propagation de K7RA

Geomagnetic conditions are quiet this week, but may become slightly unsettled over this weekend. Average daily sunspot numbers were down over 18 points to 74.9, while average daily solar flux was off less than four points to 113.4.

Predicted solar flux values for today and tomorrow, April 29-30 are 110, May 1-8 is 105, 110 on May 9 and 115 on May 10. The next peak in solar flux is May 11-13 with a value of 120. This is actually higher than the flux values over the last month, except for one day, April 15, at 129. Over the last three days five new sunspot groups emerged. Daily sunspot numbers fell over April 22-27, then rose to 71 on April 28.

Predicted planetary A index for April 29 to May 3 is 5, 10, 12, 10 and 8, then 5 on May 4-7, then 8, 15, 15, 7 and 5 on May 8-12. So the two periods in the short term with unsettled to active geomagnetic conditions are May 1 and May 9-10.

Geophysical Institute Prague predicts quiet conditions on April 29, unsettled to active on April 30, unsettled May 1-2, quiet to unsettled May 3, and quiet May 4-5.

Angel Santana, WP3GW of Trujillo Alto, Puerto Rico feels that the good old days are back for twenty meters. He wrote, "On World Amateur Radio Day at 0304-0630 UTC on 20 meters, worked 22 stations from Europe and the Pacific, including VK, ZL, FO and NH7 all on SSB (and so on to get my WARD Award). When working Europe it looked like it was 3-4pm local time, something I have not experienced for a long time! Then on this past holiday weekend I deliberately lost sleep to see how the band was, and it worked the same way: worked a P29, SV1 and a few more Europeans, and also looking at PSK31, wow, seeing the same activity, something not seen two months ago. Propagation is really turning on, making 20 meters the 24 hour band again. Plus on Easter Day at 0845 UTC worked T31A in 40 meters, a new DXCC country for me! Right now at 0850 UTC April 26th I am hearing ON4UN working lots of VKs."

Rol Anders, K3RA of Elkridge, Maryland (southwest of Baltimore) also likes 20 meters lately. He wrote, "On Easter Sunday morning (April 24), there was an excellent long path opening on 12 meters to VR2 and BV from 1200-1230z. I worked VR2XMT on phone with my antenna on the long path, then tuned down to CW and heard BU2AQ working Asiatic Russians and Eastern Europeans. He was moderately strong and very solid. I could not hear the stations he was working, but they were all given 599 reports by BU2AQ. I heard no other USA stations calling him for the first 10 minutes or so. A PY was trying, unsuccessfully, but neither he nor I could break the Asia/Europe 'wall.' Eventually several other stations in the US heard him, but we all failed to break through. He started to fade at 1225z in Maryland. However, around 1230z, some W8s and W4s got through, and he worked a number of them, but by that time he was very weak in Maryland.

"Also, I am hearing a return of the LP on 20 to SE Africa around 1200z. I haven't heard that opening for years.

"Isn't it great to have 20 meters being an all-day DX band again?"

Rich Dowty, W7EET of St. Paul, Oregon sent info on an interesting tool called "PSK Reporter." See the web site at http://pskreporter.info and also their map utility at http://pskreporter.info/pskmap.html. The map displays stations using digital modes on HF who are tied into the reporting network. The user can click on any of the balloons to display a callsign for a monitor at that location, then enter that call in a query above the map to display all the stations that it could hear over a specified period of time. You can also click in the balloon on "Show all seen by" link. With the ability to check links on different bands and over different time periods, this is an interesting and useful tool for observing HF propagation.

There are some interesting videos showing use of this tool at http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=gMPUmRG7GqkNR=1, http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=w7trCDxJMZs, and http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=zkvOZJIqLTQ.

Last week's Propagation Forecast Bulletin ARLP016 mentioned Bud Trench, AA3B of Boyertown, Pennsylvania. At http://www.qrz.com/db/aa3b you can see some detail on his radios and antenna system.

If you would like to make a comment or have a tip for our readers, email the author at, k7ra@arrl.net.

For more information concerning radio propagation, see the ARRL Technical Information Service web page at http://arrl.org/propagation-of-rf-signals. For an explanation of the numbers used in this bulletin, see http://arrl.org/the-sun-the-earth-the-ionosphere. An archive of past propagation bulletins is at http://arrl.org/w1aw-bulletins-archive-propagation. Find more good information and tutorials on propagation at http://mysite.ncnetwork.net/k9la/index.html.

Monthly propagation charts between four USA regions and twelve overseas locations are at http://arrl.org/propagation.

Instructions for starting or ending email distribution of ARRL bulletins are at http://arrl.org/bulletins.

While that may be true, there is no result to be produced by going down this path. Consider an analogy. You're on the expressway, and the oil pressure light comes on in your car because a leak has developed. You have seconds to take appropriate action. Wondering how things got to that stage, and getting angry at the possibility that someone may have done something wrong only delays action, and does irreparable damage to your engine while you continue to focus on the academic issues.

Instead, you pull over, stop the engine, and put oil in the crankcase. Check that the cap is secured, and you take the vehicle to a location where you may more casually determine how, why, or where, the leak originated that caused the oil light to come on in the first place.

But meanwhile, you've stopped continuing damage, and you've gotten to a place where you're no longer in danger. Now, you have time to correct the leak.

Focussing on the birth certificate only distracts the resources necessary to stop this guy from continuing the damage to the country, the economy and our standing in the world. In the last few days, alone, he's had his minions punitively block the North Carolina Boeing plant from building planes, employing Americans and contributing to the rebuilding of the economy. All over the issues of non union worker status in North Carolina.

Returning resources to the real issues, will bring more to bear on stopping this guy's scythe swipes at our collective lives. Instead of wasting them on what is clearly an issue for which there is no remedy.

A

Consider, then, that focussing valuable resources on an issue that has no remedy is as moronic, given the stakes.

No disrespect intended.

It's about time someone stood up against corporate greed and regional

No one is suggesting, John, that we ALLOW the crime. Only that we focus energies, and stop the larger crimes in progress, and THEN address the crime that has no remedy.

If a man is about to commit murder with a weapon obtained with a fraudulent permit application, you don't debate the application as he cocks the hammer. You prevent the murder. Deal with the fraud after the man has been stopped from committing further crimes.

See the difference?

Well ol' denny has a very sharp mind, but for it to remain sharp it should not be closed.

So Ol' denny: A friend recently told me this:

"If you are on a dark road with a flash light on and if you turn it off
your perception increases although it is dimmer."

Perhaps turn down the intensity a little? You might be happier and even see more.

Actors are poor performers in the office, also.

Take regan for example, grade B actor on stage (I'd give him a D+), poor job of acting the part of a California governor, failed as an actor of a president ... got the ball rolling on all the deregulation which has brought us to our knees, allowed illegal banking practices, and turned the bull lose of wall street.

If we can undo what regan did, we may still have a fighting chance ...

Oh Obama figured out people were pissed about that and he would not toward it . Still cut it though .

sure they are . Cuts are never popular . But sometimes like now we

His plan like all others plans will be picked apart and changed a lot

There is so much fraud in this system that it needs to be dumped .
They will never close the fraud loop holes . Dump it and them work on a new system .
Why do you think that people should be forced to pay into a government fund that they can not keep under control ?
Why should I give them my money to use ?

I see your point but I think something else needs to be done . Until they can take your money and keep it safe without people illegally reduce taxes . that seems fair . They pay almost all the taxes as it is .

Now when I say reduce I mean reduce and cut off all loopholes to hide money . Then they pay on all their money not just a small % of it .
He will never get a reduction . Not without removing the loopholes they use to hide money .

flat tax is the way to go . On every fucking dime you make no matter where you make it and where you put it .

I think that fair is fair . If I have to pay X % of my total income then the rich should have to pay the very same X % not more .
Why is their money taxed higher than mine ?

I do not think they should kill Medicare . I do think if you can afford to buy your own insurance then you should not be collecting Medicare . If we are to have this system then they should simply give you back X amount of what you paid in if you are in a position to afford your own insurance . Millionaires do not need Medicare .
Same thing should be the law on car insurance or any other . If you do not use it you should get back X amount of it every year . You do of course owe a fee for using the service .

As far as the 35% . Why should they pay 35% if you pay 15 or whatever . Take away their ability to hide money and all the deductions and then just charge the same to everyone except the poor .

There are those who will tell you those are admirable qualities. That

That's the new definition of "traditional marriage", that the right is trying to save.

One thing which stands out to any thinking human being. These, the Waco victims, were not girly-men nor powder-puff-bull-dykes. These people had true grit.

I am suspecting just the caliber, character, demeanor, and spirit made these people very, very dangerous to government ... I'd think that reason enough for government to cover its' conscience with justification -- such will always be the types government seeks to fill its' prisons and graveyards with.

Like all other birthers, he considers himself infallible and therefore incapable of commiting an error, so he would believe that there are no mistakes from which to learn. Normal people might see dismal failures, but he would self-delare them to be triumphs.

I suspect they were all very willing to give government the finger, and this the reason why the government acted as it did -- it seemed decided before the beginning, these people were marked to fill prisons or graveyards and the children to be adopted by the state!

I heard them pretty well yesterday (April 29, 2011) at 0150 UTC on 12,759 USB - first time ever on any frequency. Surprised - since this does not match their scheduled transmission. Even got a recording. Listening again now (23:20 onward) on the 29th to see if this reception repeats at some point.

Let me respectfully differ with you.

You still have not said what wonderful things Trump has done -- other than he -may- or may not have made a bag full of money (or be leveraged to the hilt). However, we both agree he is an obnoxious, loudmouth blowhard. Other than that, what is Trump's claim to fame?

Obama, however, was elected President of the Harvard Law Review, generally considered the most prestigious law review in the country.

He did a lot of Public Service work after graduation.

He was elected to Congress.

And finally, you don't consider being elected President of the US as not "accomplishing more in his life"?

Destroy the USA? Trying to dig us out of the HUGE economic mess he inherited? Trying to get health care for the -millions- of Americans that lost health care when they lost their jobs? (a health plan patterned after the one designed by that great -Republican- Mitt Romney). Bringing home a -large- number of troops (American kids) from the Iraq war Bush started? Setting an end date for the Afghan war Bush started?

Pardon me for saying so, but you certainly appear to have a strange definition of "destroying the USA".

You are sooo full of $hit...and are obviously trolling to keep the pot boiling to get the attention you desperately want. Try to not be so needy. And try a little intelligence...and a little consistency.

First, you (and your ilk) claim Obama spent TWO MILLION DOLLARS to "cover up" his origins.

THEN you say he does a cheap "Fraudulent birth certificate [that] is a poorly done, photoshopped, cut-n-paste..."

C'mon, wake up. You can't have it both ways. First he can afford two million and then he can only afford to come up with " [a] Fraudulent birth certificate [that] is a poorly done, photoshopped, cut-n-paste".

Strange Conditions Out-There : I could here them so-so for about 30 Minutes and then nothing. ~ RHF
04:30 UTC & 1229 UTC & 0150 UTC
http://www.time.gov/timezone.cgi?UTC/s/0/java is quite a time spread for 12,759 kHz to be bouncing half-way around the world.
Laying-the-Ground-Work :
I have been doing some Grounding ground-work but suspect that hearing AFN-DG is not the result of that work.
Still-in-the-Planning-Stage :
Have to get back to working-out the details and building a "Polar" "North-Looking} Twin Sloper* Antenna {Inverted "V" Design} which is reported to have the best reception for Over-the-Pole Gray-Line DXing.
http://www.time.gov/timezone.cgi?UTC/s/0/java
* Twin Sloper with 30* between the Legs and the Legs Sloping Down 30* and Open to the North.
http://www.bcara.org/images/inverted_v.jpg http://www.hamradiosecrets.com/image-files/ham-radio-hf-antenna-inverted-v.gif
I guess using a Balun {Matching Transformer} between the two Twin Legs technically makes it a Dipole that is Shaped like an Inverted "V" and has it Legs Canted [Not Straight] "V"ed at 30* apart too.

Let me respectfully differ with you.

You still have not said what wonderful things Trump has done -- other than he -may- or may not have made a bag full of money (or be leveraged to the hilt). However, we both agree he is an obnoxious, loudmouth blowhard. Other than that, what is Trump's claim to fame?

We know he started with his daddy's money... maybe he's one of those that became a millionaire... starting as a billionaire.. :)

Trump is considered to be a successful businessman, and all that goes along with that.

Exactly what did he do which got him that job?

And?

Newt Gingrich and Trent Lott would more congressional elections that Obama, would you say that they accomplished more?

In a later post, I did observe that getting elected president is quite an accomplishment, and did limit my comparison to before Obama got elected.

I would point out however that by saying that Obama getting elected is quite an accomplishment, you must also allow the the fact George W Bush won two presidential elections is a huge accomplishment.

Unless I am greatly mistaken, I am hearing Diego Garcia BIOT on 12759 kHz at 0144 UTC on April 30, 2011. Similar conditions to yesterday. Impossible to catch specific concepts, but it surely sounds like an OM ranting on in EE.

BpnJ - Nothing 'detectable' here at 0155~0205 UTC; and for +/- 5 kHz of 12,759 kHz; except the faint sound of "Metal Turning on a Lathe" {sounds like} on 12,755 kHz.

i will check back on-frequency in an hour ~ RHF
UTC : 1300-1500; that's PDT : 6~8 AM has AFN-DG operating on both 4319 and 12.759 kHz in USB.

"All that goes along with it" is still pretty generic. And if you call going bankrupt 3 or 4 times and being "successful", well, you are entitled to your definition.

He was elected to the position based on his academic and people skills. Most people (apparently presnt company excepted) would consider this an honor and certainly a life accomplishment.

He did work for various community groups. Most people define that as public service; again, your definition may vary.

And what? You were talking about "accomplishments in life" and most people would consider getting elected to a high political office as an accomplishment, again present company apparently excepted.

Why would I say that? I wouldn't. You brought them up. It IS interesting, that between your defense of Trump and Gingrich, you do seem to have a penchant for adulterers. Maybe you consider that a life accomplishment?

I can't explain why Bush got elected twice, other than:
1) Both elections were under a shadow of suspicion, Florida for the first election and Ohio the second.

2) The gullibility of the voting public -- and before you get up in arms, how else would you explain that Trump is at the top of some polls if not for gullibility, or dare I say it, outright stupidity?

Wow - I should put up a recording of what I heard at that exact time.
It was ONLY noted on 12759, USB only (obviously no carrier), and it was continuous BC. Local noise level very bad but could hear OMs & then also YL talking in apparent English, with short segments of music. A near duplicate of what I heard yesterday, same time. It's now inaudible here again. I will try to hit the freqs you suggest tomorrow AM - thanks!

I don't have photoshop, last I used it was early 2000s.

Right off the bat, and once again, we have a birth certificate with NO SEAL!

That is a dead giveaway!

And, there is more, so very much, much more ...

But it still means diddley-squat if he hasn't accomplished becoming President like Obama. So Obama trumps Trump. Oh, and by the way, there is no qualification of accomplishing anything life to become President. You could be a welfare recipient your whole life sitting around watching TV or posting idiocies on usenet all day every day and still become President. Accomplishments are irrelevant according to the Constitution.

A fly is not an animal. Besides, we all know where flies like to party, so one less fly doesn't hurt anyone.

When I drove truck back in the 70's, fresh out of high school, I was Teamster. Every truck driver, unless owner/operator, was making one-half to three-quarters of what I made an hour. Most had few benefits, most no retirement.

I had full benefits, fully paid prescriptions-doctor, great retirement, etc.

I can't imagine those working at below level pay would not have liked a union job. Even back then they were hard to come by, my dad having been in a union helped immensely!

All the "research and investigations" seem to have come to naught. If there were any substance in what you say, Obama wouldn't be presiding!
Since he is, your researchers and investigators obviously have it all wrong!

A few years ago on the BBC America channel, there were a couple of Brit series programs, I used to watch them on the BBC America TV channel.One of them was a woman who went to some people's filthy nasty dirty homes, Brit obese people, some of those Brit obese people were so fat they could barely walk through the door.She would display a weeks worth of the fatty foods those Brit people ate, and she put those people on a strict diet program.I don't remember the name/title of that Brit TV series, maybe it was, You Are What You Eat? I used to watch it on the BBC America TV channel.

The other Brit TV series was about two Brit women who went to some Brit people's filthy nasty dirty homes.Those two women had clean up crews.It was Amazing how filthy nasty dirty those homes were.I don't rember the name/title of that Brit TV series either.I used to watch them on the BBC America channel.

But hey, Disregard, there are no obese people in UK either.Yep, they are all as skinny as a rail.

Yes, Alex Jones has been on 1280 - KWSX here in the central valley for more than a month, that I know of.

I was shocked! 1280 has terrible coverage here, some relation to 1280 is 1360 - KFIV, perhaps a sister station in Tracy, Modesto, or ?

I never checked if 1360 is carrying Alex Jones or not.

Only listen on 1280 if in the car at those hours 1280 replays his broadcast.

WOW!

If you have that kind of employment there, I am telling Americans here to apply for british citizenship. When decent paying jobs here are advertised the lines stretch out for blocks!

Most business doing this once, won't advertise the jobs that way again.
Instead, hiring an employment agency to find their employees.

Not really. Take a look at your next ballot. It is simply a list of choices of goons you don't want anywhere near the public servant office of president.

FACT you cannot refute.

HERE IS WHAT ABERCROMBIE DID SAY: "It actually exists!" To your stupid racist mind, somehow this translates as it does not exist! TOO FUCKIN' FUNNY the extremes you racist America-haters will go to deny proven reality.

How does this invalidate the completely dispositive, legal, controlling and authoritative COLB that he released three years ago, nutbar? It's what EVERY Hawaiian is forced to use these days to prove birth in Hawaii when they apply for certified copies, since that is all Hawaiian authorities give out.

Nope. The COLB is exactly the same in all legal aspects as the second one Hawaii bent its legal rules to give to Obama.

FACT that you cannot refute no matter how many racist ramblings you fabricate.

Sigh...you just keep barking the same tired old lies and refuse to answer critical questions, like:

1) The birthers say Obama spent millions trying to "cover up". Yet you say his birth certificate is a cheap, "most obvious fraud". With the millions you claim he already spent on the topic, PLEASE EXPLAIN why he couldn't afford a better "fake".

2) The Republican, conservative, Obama disliking Wall Street Journal says it's NOT a fraud. PLEASE EXPLAIN why you think the birther kooktards know something the WSJ investigative reporters don't. If there was -any- truth to your BS, those reporters would be on it like flies on $hit -- but they're not.

And try a REAL answer, not just non sequiturs, name calling and tap-dancing.

I received an email today from that married Irish woman wayyyyyyyyyy over yonder across the big pond, in Bognor Regis,England.Bognor Regis is about sixty - sixty five something miles South/Southwest of London.She works for West Sussex County Council.If anybody knows about employment in England, she certainly does.I haven't asked her about the current employment status in England, and I see no reason to ask her about that.I can sort of guess just about what she would say though, I doubt if it would be very nice.I have known her since November 1999.
